Israel's Hawks 'Go Slow' On Plane Raid Retaliation

By The Associated Press

Israel's hawks today held in abeyance their demands for retaliation for the latest Arab attack on an Israeli airliner. They awaited the outcome of calls from their government and that of the United States for international action to protect civil aviation.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, one of the more militant members of the Israeli cabinet, told a closed meeting at the Weizman Institute of Science Wednesday night that Israelis must be restrained and let the diplomats fight their battles for the moment. But reliable sources said he warned Israel's Arab neighbors:

"We regard all our neighboring states as responsible for all terrorist activities. When we make reprisals, we will hit them in the place that will hurt them the most and will be the most convenient for us. We will not be bound to any particular target."

Dayan had just come from a top-secret ministerial security meeting at the home of Premier Levi Eshkol.

"We'll let the Arabs stew for a while," said one leading Israeli commentator." All their govrenments are certain of a big Israeli reprisal, are scurrying around frantically to accuse each other of complicity and thus escape the consequences themselves."

Lebanon denied any part in the Arab commando attack.

Another Meeting Set On Hancock Sheriff

Move Taken For Protest By Smoleski

Delegation Of 150 Packs Hearing For Ballot Discussion

By TOM FUTHEY

The controversy over the sheriff's post in Hancock County will move into another phase Friday night at 7 in the Courthouse at New Cumberland.

Commissioners set the meeting after a formal petition Thursday night by Frank Pientranton, Weirton attorney, then court - ousted Sheriff Lou Smoleski be permitted to contest the action.

The commissioners agreed on the new move during a heated meeting as some 150 Hancock residents — mostly voters in Precinct 32 at Weirton where contested ballots in the sheriffs race lie — jammed the courtroom.

THE DECISION came about midway through the hour-and-a-half discussion with the precinct delegation, which calls itself the Committee on Voters Rights.

Smoleski, who had been declared the winner by reason of his vote margin in the November election, was unseated after the West Virginia Supreme Court ruled that some ballots were illegal because they had been improperly signed.

Republican Ralph Patrick then was sworn in Feb. 10 after the commissioners examined the some 50 ballots in question a second time.

Pietranton, Smoleski's counsel, cited various statutes to the commissioners and their counsel, Hancock Prosecutor Edward Zagula, in asking for the right to contest the latest move.

"The candidate has a right to contest this action," Pietranton declared, "and I don't think you have a right not to allow the contest."

Neither Patrick nor his attorneys were present and Pietranton rquested that commissioners notify Patrick in writing of the Friday night meeting.

Meanwhile, Zagula urged the county residents who attended to "get after their state representatives to have the law changed. Earlier in the week he had termed "a rotten law" the statute that allowed the Supreme Court to rule the ballots invalid.

—:—

THE MEETING with the residents got under way about 8:30 after the commissioners first conducted some routine matters at their office in the Courthouse basement.

Miss Anita Porter of New Cumberland led off by introducing her sister, Judy Porter, 18, a senior at Oak Glen High School, who presented what she termed the view of the future voters of Hancock County.

"You are probably wondering why I should have anything to say or why I am concerned," Miss Porter declared. "Why should I have become involved?"

"I am 18 years old. Soon, I

But Hanoi, NLF Stick To Demands

U.S. Says Common Ground Exists To End Vietnam War

PARIS (AP) — The United States insisted today that common ground exists at the Vietnam peace talks to bring the conflict to an end, but the atmosphere of deadlock deepened as Hanoi and the National Liberation Front stuck by their all-or-nothing demands.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the North Vietnamese and the NLF that the 1954 Geneva accords provide the common ground, and that it was in the spirit of the basic principles of those accords that the Americans had made their proposals for a military de-escalation.

Lodge claimed the other side recognized last week that the solution of military issues is "an absolutely essential first step" for the creation of conditions in which political problems can be resolved." He recalled that the Hanoi-front side had called the withdrawal of troops a "fundamental question."

"Thus," he said, "your side and our side seem to agree that military issues and particularly the question of withdrawal of military forces are of key importance to an over-all settlement."

Tran Buu Kiem, chief of the National Liberation Front delegation, declared that the United States "must end its war of aggression, unconditionally withdraw all their troops and those of their satellites," and permit a South Vietnamese settlement "according to the political program" of the NLF.

Only this way, he said, can Vietnamese problems be settled "correctly."

There was nothing new in Kiem's statement except an escalation in name-calling. The NLF delegate compared the United States unfavorably with the former Fascist regimes of Germany, Italy and Japan, and again heaped scorn on the "puppet Saigon administration."

Kiem said the NLF would never stop fighting as long as the Americans continue "aggression" and the Saigon regime continues as a "lackey" of the United States. Again he spurned "so-called concrete proposals" by the United States to make military de-escalation as a primary order of conference business.

U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge planned to challenge the other side to seek some form of agreement on interpretation of the 1954 Geneva accords which ended the French war in Indochina.

As he left the U.S. Embassy for the session, Lodge noted that last week the North Vietnamese and the NLF had discussed their positions on the 1954 agreements.

"So today," Lodge said, "I am going to state the U.S. position on the essential elements of these accords, and the part which we think they can play in a future settlement. We hope and believe it is useful for each side to set forth its position on various matters."

South Vietnamese Ambassador Pham Dang Lam went into the meeting with a long speech calling on Hanoi and the NLF to present serious counter proposals instead of dismissing the U.S. suggestion that peacemaking begin with military de-escalation.

However, there was no reason to suspect that any movement in the talks was at hand. Diplomats on the sidelines pointed out that nothing had changed on the battlefield or in the principal capitals to warrant such expectations.

Anti-Poverty Warrior Rips Nixon On Changes In OEO

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading congressional antipoverty warrior has attacked President Nixon's plan to remove two key agencies from the Office of Economic Opportunity. But despite the harsh words, the administration's program appears in no danger.

Chairman Carl D. Perkins of the House Education and Labor Committee said the administration plan to shift OEO's showcase Head Start and Job Corps programs to other agencies was a "tragic mistake."

Another House source said that by taking away OEO's most dramatic and appealing programs "we simply won't have the goodies to get the votes" if it comes to a showdown next year on whether to wipe out the antipoverty agency altogether.

Wisconsin Democrat Gaylord Nelson said that the programs handled by OEO covered only 10 per cent of the government's over-all poverty attack.

"We need some kind of new job creation program, fitted into a comprehensive manpower policy," Nelson said in a favorable reaction to Nixon's plan.

The Wisconsin senator is the new chairman of the Senate subcommittee on employment, manpower and poverty which handles OEO legislation.

Nixon announced Wednesday he would keep OEO alive — but would turn Head Start and the Job Corps over to old-line departments.

Both Democrats and Republicans at the Capitol praised the message although there were dissenters besides Perkins.

Some Democrats said they felt it marked a considerable retreat from GOP statements in the 1968 campaign that OEO should be downgraded or abolished.

Moore Signs Bill To Hike Auto Inspection To $3.50

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. Wednesday signed five bills into law, including one measure increasing motor vehicle inspection from the present $1.25 to $3.50.

The bill, which goes into effect on July 1, 1969, would allow $3.00 to go to the inspectors and 50 cents to go to the state police.

Moore also signed bills to:

Make the state treasurer a member of the board of trustees of the West Virginia Public Employees Retirement System;

Permit building and loan associations organized under state law to accept savings accounts, pay utilities and do other related activities;

Allow the Raleigh County Court to meet three times a year, instead of four times a year, on the third Monday in January, April and September;

Abolish the Doctrine of Worthier Title and the common law rule that a grantor cannot create a limitation in favor of his own needs or next of kin.

Today the House of Delegates is expected to vote on a bill that would expand requirements for communications systems in coal mines.

More than one hour of debate was triggered Wednesday when an amendment was offered that would require 15 vertical holes per square mile be drilled to provide emergency communications channels from the underground caverns to the surface. was defeated, 80-18.

The amendment eventually

A riot control bill was approved by the House without a roll call vote that would give local authorities increased powers to suppress civil disorders.

Meanwhile, the Senate passed a bill 33-0 that increases first offenses for deliberately disrupting a school to fines ranging up to $500 and a year in the county jail.

A second offense would be a felony punishable by a fine of up to $1,000, or one to five years in the state prison or both.

Up for passage in the Senate today is a bill that would make it a misdemeanor to possess, sell, offer for sale or use chemical MACE.

Iraq Executes 7 As Spies For Israel, None Jewish

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Iraq executed seven young men today as spies for Israel, then put their bodies on display. There were no Jews among them.

Israel was expected to issue a denial of any complicity, but it seemed unlikely there would be another storm of foreign protests such as followed the execution and public display last month of nine Iraqi Jews and five other Iraquis as spies for the Jewish nation.

Baghdad Radio canceled regular programs this morning and broadcast repeated announcements of the executions in what appeared to be an invitation to crowds to go to the capital's liberation Square, where the bodies were hanging.

The seven Iraqi Moslems, all between 19 and 24 years of age, were condemned after a three-week trial before Iraq's revolutionary court. The government radio said two were soldiers, and they were shot by firing squads, while five civilians were hanged at Baghdad's central prison.

A third soldier also was sentenced to death, the broadcast said, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by President Ahmed Hassan al Bakr because he "helped authorities uncover the detailed activities of the ring."

The court said the eight men had collected information about Iraq's air force bases and radar screens and communicated them to Israel through a non-commissioned officer who is still at large. He was said to have headed the group.

Motorist Hurt As Car Dives Off 'Hill Rd.'

A 28-year-od East End man apparently escaped serious injury early today when his auto plunged through a guardrail and about 75 feet down a steep, wooded embankment below the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." at Ravine St., police reported.

Byron E. Surgeon of 1753 Pennsylvania Ave. was taken to City Hospital with leg and back injuries after the one-car crash at 1:26 a. m. He was cited on a charge of failure to have his auto under control.

A police cruiser and a fire department emergency vehicle went to the scene, expecting to extricate the driver from the smashed, overturned auto. They found Surgeon had extricated himself from the battered car and climbed back up the hillside to the roadway.

The 1968 two - door sedan was termed a total loss. Surgeon told officers he was traveling west and lost control of the auto while rounding a curve. Police said the auto veered left across the center line, hit the guardrail and then rebounded in

'Black Lung' Issue Sparks Mine Strikes

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Wildcat strikes have shut down scores of mines in West Virginia's southern coal fields as miners push for legislation dealing with the "black lung" disease which comes from breathing coal dust.

As many as 5,000 miners refused Wednesday to work and claimed they have sent pickets to close down the northern pits.

Miners who out of fear for their jobs refused to be identified say they will not return to their jobs until compensation legislation is passed in the state legislature.

One miner said, "If necessary, we will stop every lump of coal in the state until we get this legislation through."

The legislation about which they are concerned deals with miners' pneumoniosis commonly known as "black lung."

Bill Urges Doubling Of W.Va. Income Tax

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — New restriction on issuance of trading stamps and an increased personal income tax are included in bills received today in the West Virginia House of Delegates.

A bill sponsored by Del. Fred A. Grewe Jr., R-Ohio, would double the personal income tax rate and distribute five per cent of the revenue to municipalities.

Also introduced was a bill that would prohibit trading stamp companies from requiring their dealers to issue stamps on the tax portion of any sale.

Blount Maps New Postal System Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 2,200 acting postmasters—plus 467 Johnson administration nominees who never were confirmed—are out of their jobs with the disclosure that the new administration considers all current Civil Service lists void.

The announcement came Wednesday from Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, giving patronage-conscious members of his party something to cheer about. It means Republicans will have at least an equal chance with Democrats to compete for the jobs, which pay from 5,600 to $27,000 annually.

These jobs, Blount explained, will be filled under new non-political procedures based on merit and developed to implement the new administration's program to put the postal system on a sound management basis.

The Post Office, under every postmaster general since Benjamin Franklin, has been the primary governmental agency through which the party in power could reward its faithful.

The policy prevailed during the Johnson administration but President Nixon changed it. He said postmasters would be chosen on merit.

Blount also announced another major shakeup Wednesday. He said only those regional postal directors "with managerial experience" are remaining in their present positions.

Consequently, only two of 13 regional directors—two other spots are vacant—are staying in their assignments.

"Two or three" elected to retire, Blount said, and the others were reassigned to jobs more in line "with their background and experience."

Don R. Gosney said they are not opposed to the tax as such, but believe the village has ample surplus funds to finance various projects.

The five Republicans and one Democrat on Council unanimously approved the new tax, which will go into effect April 1 and will produce some $100,000 a year. Officials said the funds will be used for capital improvements.

Another ordinance provides for issuance of a $37,000 note from the income tax to make improvements, including sanitary sewers, water lines, street repairs, rebuilding of the Lisbon St. underpass and repairs to the Village Hall.

Two Charged In Burglary

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan filed daytime burglary charges Wednesday against Virgil P. Hutchison, 43, of Salineville RD 1 and David A. Cheuvront, 23, of 727 Avondale St., East Liverpool.

Judge D. Barry Dickson of Eastern Area Court at East Palestine set bond at $1,000 each. The defendants are in the County Jail awaiting appointment of counsel for arraignment.

They are accused of entering a house trailer, storage trailer and barn on the Denzil Conger property on McCormick Run Rd. in Madison Township Tuesday afternoon.

The sheriff's department apprehended the men Tuesday evening at Hutchison's home. Conger told officers he was driving in the lane to his place when the two came along in a car. He said they bumped his car getting by, then had to abandon their car when a front wheel buckled as they hit a ditch.

They fled and Conger called the sheriff.

Blount Maps New Postal System Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 2,200 acting postmasters—plus 467 Johnson administration nominees who never were confirmed—are out of their jobs with the disclosure that the new administration considers all current Civil Service lists void.

The announcement came Wednesday from Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, giving patronage-conscious members of his party something to cheer about. It means Republicans will have at least an equal chance with Democrats to compete for the jobs, which pay from 5,600 to $27,000 annually.

These jobs, Blount explained, will be filled under new non-political procedures based on merit and developed to implement the new administration's program to put the postal system on a sound management basis.

The Post Office, under every postmaster general since Benjamin Franklin, has been the primary governmental agency through which the party in power could reward its faithful.

The policy prevailed during the Johnson administration but President Nixon changed it. He said postmasters would be chosen on merit.

Blount also announced another major shakeup Wednesday. He said only those regional postal directors "with managerial experience" are remaining in their present positions.

Consequently, only two of 13 regional directors—two other spots are vacant—are staying in their assignments.

"Two or three" elected to retire, Blount said, and the others were reassigned to jobs more in line "with their background and experience."

Balloting Eyed On Columbiana's New Income Tax

COLUMBIANA — A group of village residents has announced plans to circulate petitions calling for a referendum vote on a new 1 per cent income tax approved by Council Tuesday.

Don R. Gosney said they are not opposed to the tax as such, but believe the village has ample surplus funds to finance various projects.

The five Republicans and one Democrat on Council unanimously approved the new tax, which will go into effect April 1 and will produce some $100,000 a year. Officials said the funds will be used for capital improvements.

Another ordinance provides for issuance of a $37,000 note from the income tax to make improvements, including sanitary sewers, water lines, street repairs, rebuilding of the Lisbon St. underpass and repairs to the Village Hall.

An Expert On Efficiency?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The rest of the world does not particularly admire America's claims to moral grandeur, but it does admire America's business efficiency.

"We do not see how you can get so much productivity per man hour," a foreigner said to me recently. "It is fantastic."

My curiosity aroused by his remark, I set out to find the secret behind our success. So I asked a business friend to give me a time sheet of how he budgeted a typical eight-hour day at the office.

"If you want an honest one, you'll have to keep it anonymous," he said. I agreed to this.

Two weeks later he handed me the time sheet. It went like this:

"Time spent gulping late breakfast at desk: 15 minutes.

"Time spent on '10-minute coffee breaks,' " morning and afternoon: one hour.

"Time spent listening to boss brag about golf score during daily staff conference: half-hour.

"Time spent washing hands and admiring mustache in office washroom mirror: 45 minutes.

"Time spent paring fingernails at desk: 15 minutes.

"Time spent listening to office friends explain their ailments, romantic conquests, and why they should get more money: 1½ hours.

"Time spent telling them about my troubles: 2½ hours.

"Time spent going to and from broken office water cooler and trying to find someone in authority who can get it to function properly: 45 minutes.

"Time spent discussing the mystery of life with pretty secretaries: one hour.

"Time spent shooting rubber bands at homely stenographer and sailing paper airplanes out window: half hour.

"Time spent dozing at desk after two-martini lunch: one hour.

"Time spent wondering why didn't do day before yesterday some things now plan to put off until tomorrow: half-hour.

"Time spent listening to wife over office phone forbidden to be used for personal calls: 45 minutes.

"Time spent getting shoeshine and talking about 1969 baseball prospects with office bootblack: half-hour.

"Time spent looking at travel folders of possible places to go for vacation next summer: half-hour.

"Time spent going out to stockroom to get new box of paper clips: 15 minutes.

"Time spent trying to find someone in authority who can explain why broken office pencil sharpener hasn't been fixed: half-hour.

"Time spent figuring how much pension would receive if retired 10 years early: half-hour.

"Time spent making preliminary estimate of personal income taxes and also trying figure out why bank account doesn't balance: 45 minutes.

"Time spent daydreaming at desk: 4 hours, 15 minutes.

"Time spent actually working on the firm's business: one hour.

"Time spent tidying up desk and watching clock before leaving for day: half-hour."

When I added up these figures, I was surprised to find that instead of eight hours they totaled 19. When I pointed this out to my friend, he was surprised, too, but insisted the figures were accurate. He was also somewhat indignant.

"That boss of mine must be trying to turn our office into a salt mine," he said. "Imagine him getting 19 hours of performance for only eight hours' pay. I'm going to hit him up for a merit raise."

More Than A Political Stunt

When President Woodrow Wilson set sail for the Paris Peace Conference on the George Washington Dec. 4, 1918, he became the first chief executive to leave the western hemisphere while in office.

He was buoyed with enthusiasm and believed he was embarking on a journey that would blaze an international trail that could be followed toward world peace.

THE OUTCOME of his pilgrimage to plead valiantly for a league of nations to insure a lasting peace in the world is painfully well known.

President Nixon leaves on his eight-day trip to five western European nations Sunday but he will not be carrying a briefcase of false illusions.

The trip is fraught with danger. Despite extensive precautions, there still is the ugly potential of physical harm to the President.

The other danger lies in the diplomatic realm. A goof, a misinterpretation of a statement or an unintended slight could erase the good will Mr. Nixon hopes to generate with his visit.

To make as certain as humanly possible that none of these fears become fact, a small army of White House aides have been hard at work.

The tremendous amount of time and energy that is going into Mr. Nixon's trip is the tipoff to how seriously the White House is viewing the journey abroad.

We see more to the trip than its critics who have billed it a dangerous waste of time and political grandstanding.

THE PRESIDENT already has a reputation for being capable in foreign affairs. Should the upcoming trip backfire, he stands to lose far more than he could ever hope to gain politically.

No, the presidential journey is more than a political stunt. Mr. Nixon has said we have left an era of confrontation and are entering an era of negotiation.

For this to work, the President needs to know his friends, who he can count on and to what extent.

He then will be better prepared to participate in a summit conference with potential enemies that is looming ahead.

The scheduled trip is not empty symbolism. It is a step toward a new era in a troubled world.

Maintaining A Sure Grip

The only thing temporary about a temporary tax is its "temporary" title.

President Nixon had a lot to say about the "temporary" 10 per cent surcharge during his campaign, mainly that it be repealed.

He did qualify the suggestion by tying it to a decrease in war spending, but the impression he left with voters was that a Republic administration would adopt a fiscal program that would bring tax relief.

Mr. Nixon's top economic men now are pushing for a one-year extension when the surcharge expiration date of June 30 rolls around. If Congree agrees, the "temporary" tax will be in effect until the middle of 1970.

Should the Vietnam War end by then, the spending won't stop. It has been estimated that heavy spending will continue long after a cease fire goes into effect. That would take the "temporary" tax into 1971.

Does anyone really believe that government expenditures will be cut enough over the next 30 months or so to permit a tax slash? Aren't expenses going up every day?

We would like to think the Nixon administration would be able to get a bridle on government spending during the next several months — and that is a possibility — but there seems to be little inclination on the part of the Nixon team to come up with even long-range plans for reductions.

The new Washington team has a spending tiger by the tail—compliments of President Johnson—and is giving every appearance of being reluctant to turn it loose.

Thick And Thin

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I had lunch with Gen. Blunderbuss at the Army-Navy Club the other day and I decided it would be a good time to ask him about the controversial antiballistic missile system.

"General, do we really need an ABM system?"

"Of course we do. The military wouldn't push for it unless it was absolutely necessary," the general replied. "Would we?"

"Probably not. But there seems so much confusion about it. For one thing, you call it a 'thin' shield. That in itself doesn't give you much confidence in it."

Art Buchwald

"OF COURSE IT DOESN'T," Blunderbuss said. "And that's the idea. If we call it a 'thin' shield, then Americans will demand a 'thick' shield and that's what we wanted in the first place."

"Why didn't you propose a thick shield to start with?" I asked.

"Becuse it cost too much money. We've discovered from experience that if you ask for $5 billion, you can always get $20 billion more. And if you ask for $20 billion to start with, they might cut you down to $5 billion."

"But the critics say that the thin shield could have no effect as far as the Russians are concerned."

"The thin shield is not aimed at the Russians. It's aimed at the Chinese. When the Chinese have their ICBMs, we're going to need something to stop them."

"Then the thick shield you'll build after the thin shield will take care of the Soviet missiles?"

"NOT NECESSARILY. We're not sure that by the time we build a thick shield it will work."

"Why build it then?"

"My dear fellow, the object of the antiballistic missile system is not to knock down missiles; it's to give us something to negotiate with. If we announce we're building an ABM system, it will force the Soviets to build one and we're not sure they want to spend that kind of money. So the announcement would make the Soviets come to some arms-control agreement."

"But if we agree with the Soviets not to build an ABM system, how will that protect us from the Chinese?"

"We will still build our thin shield but the Soviets will know that it has nothing to do with their missiles. They obviously would have to build a thick shield of their own against the Chinese ICBMs but we would know the Soviets would not wish our missiles any harm."

"Then we would have to come to some agreement as to how thin our shield could be?"

"Exactly."

"How could we do this if we don't know if your antiballistic system will work?"

"The Chinese don't know if it will work either. That's the beauty of the ABM system. If they were certain it worked they could figure out ways to evade it. But if they don't know if it will work at all, it will act as a deterrent."

"THAT MAKES SENSE. But what worries people is that if you build a thick shield and the other side knows where the antiballistic missiles are located, then those places will be the first ones attacked. I must say I sympathize with the people in Boston for not wanting to be part of a 'thin' ABM shield."

"You've got to forget about Boston in the over-all defense capability picture. We didn't select Boston because it's Boston. Heaven knows, if anything happened to Boston we'd all be terribly upset. But if we didn't build it in Boston, we'd have to build it somewhere else. Would you prefer we put it in Washington?"

"Heck no. If that's the choice, by all means put it in Boston. I don't even have any relatives there."

'Now What?'

Letters To The Editor

No Pay Hike Needed

We the people of the United States hire 535 Senators and Representatives that were paid $30,000 a year plus more thousands for expense, then these employes hire many more at higher wages than theirs plus expenses and we the people pay the bills.

Now these people upped their wages 41 per cent and the expenses—oh dear, I couldn't say for I don't know. If the taxpayer wanted a raise where he or she worked they would have to ask for it then the factory or firm would call a meeting and vote on the situation then meet with the workers and negotiate, but the government raises its own wages and anything else by tax and surtax which we pay.

The government sends money overseas to any country that asks for it, or at least it seems that way, and the countries run our ships in and we pay a fine to get the ships back and the relief check continues to go. The U. S. saved the lives of one or two countries and we have sent relief to them, and according to the news, these countries are selling war materials to our enemies and we are still taking care of them.

In the Thirties, Social Security was set up on a system to take care of the aged enabling the aged to retire at 65. This started with a payroll tax of one percent and after three or four years paid a benefit of something like $40. Now that tax is more than six times greater but the benefits lost out in proportion and the Social Security plan has been changed. Who changed it?

The average record summary of Social Security checks show from $98 to $115 with a death benefit of $255.

If a man and his wife worked enough quarters to get $100 a month, how far would that go toward rent, gas, electric, water, sewerage, telephone, paper boy, Radio Free Europe, that ship called Hope, Heart Fund, Boy and Girl Scouts, a little to the Church and other?

They have now added to this Medicare and set that up like people were a piece of machinery $40 deductable for hospital, $50 deductable for doctor. So where will the old man get the deductables after he gets his bread-and-water diet?

I can't help but think the Senators and others could get along very well in their salaries of $30,000 with all the other moneys they get beside the free privileges.

Why shouldn't this raise be put on our war debt then cut a little from the give-away money sent overseas, and if these people need perhaps they could make records or some other sideline like some of the tax payers have to do.

Welfare Defended

We recognize the right If Mrs. Sadie Willis to express her opinion concerning persons receiving welfare benefits.

However — since Mrs. Willis, a comparative new-comer to East Liverpool, has as far as we determined remained rather uninvolved or without any contact with persons in need living in our vicility. We question the validity of her concern and expressions.

If she has based her criticisms upon things she has observed in the Youngstown vicinity or upon statements made to her by a New York welfare worker recently, we feel she should make that distinction clear. To those of us who are closely involved with the needy or those of us who through unfortunate circumstances are forced to be the recipients of charity — we take great exception to her report.

None of the needy that we know either drive big cars or wear fur coats or any of the other statements made by her. We realize that these conditions may very well exist in some of our larger metropolitan areas, but we do not feel that she has done our community a service by her letter.

Perhaps the answer may lie in the description of Mrs. Willis that appeared in the feature story.

We would suggest that Mrs. Willis more closely examine her motives for making such an issue of this matter — and if it is associated with some personal bitterness and frustrations, she go more directly to the root of her problems to locate the solution.

If the number of "job possibilities, including road repair, tree trimming within city limits, painting city buildings, work in hospitals and nursing homes and baby sitting for working mothers" that Mrs. Willis mentioned, were available to all, the Bureau of Unemployment would not be swamped with persons in waiting for any kind of labor. As for babysitting, it would not pay for a mother of 3 or 4 children under school age or in the first four years of elementary school to baby sit, for her wages would be paid out to someone to baby sit with her children. Does this really make a whole lot of sense?

All we have to say to Mrs. Willis is we hope she will never have to eat her words — may she forever stay healthy, nourished, and able-bodied as not to ever need any source of aid. We, too, of low income are paying taxes, and the welfare recipients pay some taxes.

The majority in our community who exist on charity or are forced to accept charity would much prefer work and independence and are quick to take advantage of any such opportunities offered them. If Mrs. Willis objects or takes exceptions to these viewpoints we most sincerely encourage her to personally contact any of the undersigned and make a more thorough survey and evaluation of her community than she appears to have done.

Writer Corrected

I am writing this letter in regard to one which appeared in The Review Tuesday signed "Interested Observer."

This person does not know what he is talking about. There indeed has been at least one Negro valedictorian at East Liverpool High School.

He certainly did not check the files or he would have known that the class of 1955 had a Negro valedictorian. I know, because it was my sister, Carol Sue Burks of Garfield St. who is now a teacher in the Cleveland school system and has been for the past ten years.

So my friend, all Negroes are not dumb, scholastically, and she did earn what she received.

Letter Earned?

On my way home from work tonight I gave a ride to Jim Jones, better known as "Moose" to football fans.

He told me a story that is hard to believe even for this town. I have followed football since I was a kid, and as I remember, all that is required to receive a varsity letter is 16 quarters of ball. Yet after playing in about every game and sometimes two games in 24 hours, he was refused his letter.

This was enough for me to write about. But after dinner, when I read the two letters written by so-called non-prejudiced whites, I boiled.

The slur given Sonny Clark about how many yards he would have gained without Jim Musuraca's blocking was uncalled for.

I would like for the writer to tell me how far any one man could go without his ten other team mates. As for basketball's most valuable player, does the town or the school have any choice but to give it to Jerry Christian?

You may give my name and address, because I am a prejudiced Negro.

Misleading Figures

Figures alone, without an explanation of what they really mean, can convey wrong impressions. Letters are coming in, for instance, to members of Congress complaining about the raises in pay which they just voted for themselves and others in government.

Many of the citizens do not begrudge congressmen a few thousand dollars increase, but when they read about all the free privileges provided to senators and representatives, skepticism arises, and various questions are asked.

People want to know why more isn't being done for the millions of people who are not getting enough money to make ends meet.

ONLY A FEW DAYS AGO, it was officially announced that the current unemployment rate is 3.3 per cent, the lowest in more than 15 years. But the average reader isn't familiar with what is meant by "unemployment," nor is the number actually out of work revealed.

No explanation is given why they cannot get employment when there are plenty of jobs unfilled.

According to official statistics, the total number of persons who were listed as "unemployed" in 1968 was 2,817,000, as compared with 2,975,000 in 1967, and 2,875,000 in 1966.

But the "unemployment" figures do not tell the whole story. For there are 10,500,000 persons receiving "welfare."

Also, there is a much larger group, consisting of 22 million individuals, which is officially designated as "poor" because the total income of a family of four is not more than $3,335 per year. Many in this category are above the age of 65 and their retirement or Social Security income is inadequate.

Thus, there are between 20 million and 25 million persons in the "poor" classification or "on welfare" or both.

This is one of the reasons why, when the press tells about increases in salary for government officials, the advocates of aid to impoverished citizens begin to wonder why something more could not be done, particularly as inflation continues to increase the cost of living.

Criticism has been voiced about persons "on welfare" who do not seek employment. One of the difficulties is that the work which some of them might be able to do is not in the same section of the city or state in which they live and transportation is not readily available. There are millions, too, who lack training for or are not physically able to do jobs which are open.

It is estimated that nearly $10 billion a year is being spent by federal, state and local governments for 'relief" alone, plus medical assistance.

States vary in the amount they contribute to meet the "basic needs" of a family. Most of the states in the North provide from 75 to 100 per cent of a family's "basic needs." Some of the states in the South furnish from 20 to 35 per cent. Out of the total who are being aided, about 40 per cent are Negroes.

Certainly contributions made by government to assist persons "on welfare" or in the so-called "poor" classification are larger than they have ever been before in American history. Yet, in the face of what can be called widespread poverty, the word "prosperity" is often used to describe the economic condition of the United States.

A good deal of stress is laid also upon the increases in the "gross national product." Certainly, business is expanding and labor organizations have been successful in getting contracts from employers which raise wages from year to year.

But members of labor unions are only around 17 million out of nearly 80 million in the civilian labor force of the nation.

EFFORTS HAVE BEEN MADE to help people in retirement by increasing Social Security payments but a vast number are still unable to meet living expenses because of the general rise in prices.

The fact is that, in the richest country in the world, many millions of persons who cannot find jobs in their own localities are unable to take care of their children or aged parents.

Although there have been irregularities and much inefficiency in the handling of some of the "antipoverty" programs, at least a start has been made toward effective assistance by state and federal governments for those who cannot work or whose incomes are inadequate to meet the household expenses of today.

Welfare Defended

We recognize the right if Mrs. Sadie Willis to express her opinion concerning persons receiving welfare benefits.

However — since Mrs. Willis, a comparative new-comer to East Liverpool, has as far as we determined remained rather uninvolved or without any contact with persons in need living in our viciity. We question the validity of her concern and expressions.

If she has based her criticisms upon things she has observed in the Youngstown vicinity or upon statements made to her by a New York welfare worker recently, we feel she should make that distinction clear. To those of us who are closely involved with the needy or those of us who through unfortunate circumstances are forced to be the recipients of charity — we take great exception to her report.

None of the needy that we know either drive big cars or wear fur coats or any of the other statements made by her. We realize that these conditions may very well exist in some of our larger metropolitan areas, but we do not feel that she has done our community a service by her letter.

Perhaps the answer may lie in the description of Mrs. Willis that appeared in the feature story.

We would suggest that Mrs. Willis more closely examine her motives for making such an issue of this matter — and if it is associated with some personal bitterness and frustrations, she go more directly to the root of her problems to locate the solution.

If the number of "job possibilities, including road repair, tree trimming within city limits, painting city buildings, work in hospitals and nursing homes and baby sitting for working mothers" that Mrs. Willis mentioned, were available to all, the Bureau of Unemployment would not be swamped with persons in waiting for any kind of labor. As for babysitting, it would not pay for a mother of 3 or 4 children under school age or in the first four years of elementary school to baby sit, for her wages would be paid out to someone to baby sit with her children. Does this really make a whole lot of sense?

All we have to say to Mrs. Willis is we hope she will never have to eat her words — may she forever stay healthy, nourished, and able-bodied as not to ever need any source of aid. We, too, of low income are paying taxes, and the welfare recipients pay some taxes.

The majority in our community who exist on charity or are forced to accept charity would much prefer work and independence and are quick to take advantage of any such opportunities offered them. If Mrs. Willis objects or takes exceptions to these viewpoints we most sincerely encourage her to personally contact any of the undersigned and make a more thorough survey and evaluation of her community than she appears to have done.

Writer Corrected

I am writing this letter in regard to one which appeared in The Review Tuesday signed "Interested Observer."

This person does not know what he is talking about. There indeed has been at least one Negro valedictorian at East Liverpool High School.

He certainly did not check the files or he would have known that the class of 1955 had a Negro valedictorian. I know, because it was my sister, Carol Sue Burks of Garfield St. who is now a teacher in the Cleveland school system and has been for the past ten years.

So my friend, all Negroes are not dumb, scholastically, and she did earn what she received.

Letter Earned?

On my way home from work tonight I gave a ride to Jim Jones, better known as "Moose" to football fans.

He told me a story that is hard to believe even for this town. I have followed football since I was a kid, and as I remember, all that is required to receive a varsity letter is 16 quarters of ball. Yet after playing in about every game and sometimes two games in 24 hours, he was refused his letter.

This was enough for me to write about. But after dinner, when I read the two letters written by so-called non-prejudiced whites, I boiled.

The slur given Sonny Clark about how many yards he would have gained without Jim Musuraca's blocking was uncalled for.

I would like for the writer to tell me how far any one man could go without his ten other team mates. As for basketball's most valuable player, does the town or the school have any choice but to give it to Jerry Christian?

You may give my name and address, because I am a prejudiced Negro.

Misleading Figures

Figures alone, without an explanation of what they really mean, can convey wrong impressions. Letters are coming in, for instance, to members of Congress complaining about the raises in pay which they just voted for themselves and others in government.

Many of the citizens do not begrudge congressmen a few thousand dollars increase, but when they read about all the free privileges provided to senators and representatives, skepticism arises, and various questions are asked.

People want to know why more isn't being done for the millions of people who are not getting enough money to make ends meet.

ONLY A FEW DAYS AGO, it was officially announced that the current unemployment rate is 3.3 per cent, the lowest in more than 15 years. But the average reader isn't familiar with what is meant by "unemployment," nor is the number actually out of work revealed.

No explanation is given why they cannot get employment when there are plenty of jobs unfilled.

According to official statistics, the total number of persons who were listed as "unemployed" in 1968 was 2,817,000, as compared with 2,975,000 in 1967, and 2,875,000 in 1966.

But the "unemployment" figures do not tell the whole story. For there are 10,500,000 persons receiving "welfare."

Also, there is a much larger group, consisting of 22 million individuals, which is officially designated as "poor" because the total income of a family of four is not more than $3,335 per year. Many in this category are above the age of 65 and their retirement or Social Security income is inadequate.

Thus, there are between 20 million and 25 million persons in the "poor" classification or "on welfare" or both.

This is one of the reasons why, when the press tells about increases in salary for government officials, the advocates of aid to impoverished citizens begin to wonder why something more could not be done, particularly as inflation continues to increase the cost of living.

Criticism has been voiced about persons "on welfare" who do not seek employment. One of the difficulties is that the work which some of them might be able to do is not in the same section of the city or state in which they live and transportation is not readily available. There are millions, too, who lack training for or are not physically able to do jobs which are open.

It is estimated that nearly $10 billion a year is being spent by federal, state and local governments for 'relief" alone, plus medical assistance.

States vary in the amount they contribute to meet the "basic needs" of a family. Most of the states in the North provide from 75 to 100 per cent of a family's "basic needs." Some of the states in the South furnish from 20 to 35 per cent. Out of the total who are being aided, about 40 per cent are Negroes.

Certainly contributions made by government to assist persons "on welfare" or in the so-called "poor" classification are larger than they have ever been before in American history. Yet, in the face of what can be called widespread poverty, the word "prosperity" is often used to describe the economic condition of the United States.

A good deal of stress is laid also upon the increases in the "gross national product." Certainly, business is expanding and labor organizations have been successful in getting contracts from employers which raise wages from year to year.

But members of labor unions are only around 17 million out of nearly 80 million in the civilian labor force of the nation.

EFFORTS HAVE BEEN MADE to help people in retirement by increasing Social Security payments but a vast number are still unable to meet living expenses because of the general rise in prices.

The fact is that, in the richest country in the world, many millions of persons who cannot find jobs in their own localities are unable to take care of their children or aged parents.

Although there have been irregularities and much inefficiency in the handling of some of the "antipoverty" programs, at least a start has been made toward effective assistance by state and federal governments for those who cannot work or whose incomes are inadequate to meet the household expenses of today.

Attorney Explains

'Intimidation' Charged In Midland Police Talks

Attorneys for Midland police seeking improved working conditions today said they would continue to press for arbitration of the issues despite what they termed "threats and intimidation."

Atty. Arthur Herskovitz of Aliquippa declared, "It is astonishing that in a community which is so labor-oriented, councilmen would deny the police many benefits that they themselves enjoy in their private employment."

Nine police appeared before Council in January to protest a new working schedule, and subsequently have sought to negotiate the matter along with other issues. A mandamus action has been filed in Beaver County Court seeking continued negotiations or arbitration action.

Council met with police and their attorneys earlier this month in executive session.

Herskovitz today said an agreement was made at the meeting not to engage in comment on the negotiations, but Councilmen did not observe the agreement by releasing "only their own view of the requests of the police."

He emphasized the officers under law are guaranteed the rights of collective bargaining. "The right to this agreement and to arbitration in event the agreement is not executed has been denied by Council," he said.

The attorney said the recommendations made by the police would be modified in event of arbitration, and this was pointed out to Council. "The recommendations were made in light of prior offers by Council together with the mayor in an attempt to amicably settle this dispute."

"The salary request was in accordance with the offer made by the Mayor. Now that offer has been modified and altered in accordance with the wishes of Council. The police have been threatened and intimidated in the event arbitration was pursued."

Herskovitz said requests by the police "will be reasonable, considering all the circumstances in the community."

"In the event the Mayor and Council feel the police are adequately paid and in as good condition as any other department in Beaver County, why do they fear arbitration?"

"Why is there not adequate provision for overtime? Why can't an officer get two successive weeks of vacation when men in the steel mills receive 13 weeks. Why are officers denied paid holidays? We intend to secure them for the police and, if necessary, in court."

Jury Convicts Area Girl In Theft Hearing

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Wednesday convicted Linda Evans, 19, of East Liverpool RD 2 of a charge of receiving property stolen last October from the Alice Satow residence in Glenmoor.

Judge Joel H. Sharp deferred sentencing pending a motion for a new trial. Miss Evans was released under bond.

The trial began Monday and was witnessed Tuesday by approximately 95 seniors in Robert Dickey's Civics classes at David Anderson High School here.

The state's key witness was Randy Hanlon, 18, of 760 Sophia St., East Liverpool, who testified he participated in the burglary. He said the loot was taken to Linda's home and she knew it was stolen.

Hanlon testified several things were taken from the Satow residence. There was only one exhibit — a portable TV set which Hanlon surrendered to East Liverpool police after being questioned by and confessing to Columbiana County authorities.

Hospital Treats Man Hurt In Fall And Five Others

A city man hurt in a fall was admitted Wednesday to City Hospital, where five others were treated.

Howard Covert of Walnut St. was "fair" today with a possible fracture of the right hip suffered in the fall.

Treated were Richard Hayes, son of Donald Hayes of Spruce Court, a scalp laceration on a bunk bed at home; Thomas Thoman of 82 Grant St., Newell, a contusion of the right hand while repairing a car.

Mrs. Jack Densmore of 325 E. 9th St., a contusion of the left foot when a car door closed; Jeffrey Cameron, son of Rose Cameron of Shadyside Ave., a contusion of the left side of the forehead on a door frame at home.

Chester Newlen of 3rd St. and Middle Run Rd., Chester, an employe of the Craftmaster Corp., a laceration of the left fifth finger on steel rollers at work.

Big Push Anticipated

VC Force Seen Stronger Than 1968 Tet Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military advisers said today the Viet Cong have more forces now for an attack on Saigon and the provinces around it than they had for the big Tet offensive a year ago.

The American officers conceded they were uncertain when, where or if the Communist command would launch its long anticipated big push. But they said captured documents and prisoners of war still point to an offensive in the 3rd Corps Area, which is male up of Saigon and 11 provinces around it.

Assessing the current military situation around the capital, the analysts said either the enemy has not been able to get his troops, munitions and food supplies into position because of U.S. and South Vietnamese spoiling actions, or he is awaiting advice from Hanoi's diplomats at the Paris peace talks.

"The enemy's over-all strength in 3rd Corps has increased about 7,500 over the last 13 months to 65,000," said one source. About 20,000 to 30,000 of these are considered assault troops, the rest support forces. The total includes several thousand operating from bases just across the border in Cambodia who move in and out of South Vietnam at will and are within easy striking distance of Saigon.

The allies have roughly 50,000 combat infantrymen in the area.

At least one of four North Vietnamese divisions in the 3rd Corps Area is said to be moving into attack positions through War Zone D northeast of Saigon. Three other divisions remain about where they were a month ago, along the Cambodian border west, northwest and north of Saigon.

One analyst said this disposition of enemy forces suggests assaults on outlying areas rather than on Saigon itself, at least in the initial phases of any offensive. The most likely initial targets appear to be Tay Ninh City, northwest of Saigon, and the big American bases at Long Binh, Bien Hoa and Lai Khe, north and northeast of the capital.

Contractor Launches Project On Lisbon St.

The United Excavating Co. of Youngstown moved in its field office Wednesday afternoon and started preliminary work on a $311,060 Ohio Highway Department contract for widening and resurfacing of Lisbon St. between W. 8th St. and the north city limits.

The field office, a trailer, was parked on the wide berm of Lisbon St. near Fisher Park, adjacent to a city-owned sanitary sewer booster station.

The firm received the contract early in February after submitting the lowest of three offers to the state. The project will cover a 1.6-mile stretch. The contract provides the firm will maintain traffic during construction.

City Youth, 16, Hurt As Auto Leaves Road

A 16-year-old city youth and a Beaver companion were injured in a one-car mishap in New Sewickley Township in Beaver County early today.

Michael Ovsen of 318 Vine St. was treated at Rochester General Hospital for a back injury received in the 1:20 a. m. accident on Big Knob Rd.

He was in a car operated by James Nichols, 18, of Beaver which went out of control, struck an embankment and overturned. Nichols was also treated at the hospital and released.

Test Passed By Apollo 9 Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — On the seventh anniversary of John Glenn's historic orbit flight, the three Apollo 9 astronauts have passed their final major preflight test and are ready to take man's next step toward the moon.

Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt, Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart participated in a critical countdown rehearsal Wednesday. Launch officials termed it successful and gave the go-ahead to start the lengthy final countdown at 11:50 p.m. EST Saturday.

Apollo 9 is to blast off on an earth orbit trip at 11 a.m. Feb. 28.

The mechanics and machinery for sending man into space have changed radically since Glenn blazed a space trail by becoming the first orbiting American Feb. 20, 1962.

The balding Marine lieutenant colonel was reaching for the first plateau in the exploration of space. American astronauts today stand on the threshhold to the moon and may land there next summer.

Glenn rode in Atlas rocket that stood 65 feet tall. The Apollo 9 ship alone, with its three sections, measures 81 feet, and the Saturn 5-spacecraft combination towers 363-feet above the launch pad.

Fueled by kerosene and liquid oxygen, the one-stage Atlas generated 367,000 pounds of thrust. Saturn 5's three stages, burning the same propellant, have total thrust of 9,082,000 pounds.

Little use was made of computers during the countdown in Glenn's day. Officials estimate that if the same physical means of checkout were used today, a Saturn 5 countdown might last as long as three months, instead of six days.

Glenn orbited the earth three times in 4 hours 55 minutes.

The Apollo 9 spacemen are to orbit for 10 days in the most complex U.S. man-in-space flight yet. It will be the first test of the lunar module (LEM) which is designed to land men on the moon.

Schweickart plans a two-hour space walk.

Applegate Joins In New Bill On Fishing License

By Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — State Sen. Douglas Applegate, D-Steubenville, was listed as a co-sponsor on a Republican-sponsored bill introduced in the Senate Wednesday afternoon that would allow persons between 65-69 to buy permanent fishing licenses.

The bill is similar in many respects to one sponsored by Applegate earlier in the session. That bill has been sent to subcommittee, where senators are supposed to incorporate language contained in the measure introduced Wednesday.

Presently, the law allows permanent fishing licenses for those over 70, who pay a one-time fee of $1, and those between 65-69 who pay an annual fee of $2.

The latest bill would permit issuing of permanent licenses to those between 65-69 at $4 and keep the $1 fee for those over 70.

The proposed bill also calls for the main item contained in Applegate's earlier bill — to permit any license-issuing agency to issue the 65 and over licenses as opposed to just by the Court of Common Pleas, as is now the case.

They will be installed March 11 at 6:30 p. m. in the church.

Karami's statement was issued after Israeli Transport Minister Moshe Carmel charged that Lebanon was responsible for the attack Tuesday on an El Al airliner in Zurich in which six persons on the plane were wounded and one guerrilla was killed.

Carmel, speaking to Israel's Parliament Wednesday, cited the publication in Beirut of a statement by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine claiming responsibility for the Zurich attack. But the statement had been issued earlier in Amman, the Jordanian capital; the Popular Front said the attack was planned in the Jordan River Valley, and Zurich police said the three surviving guerrillas told them they came from Damascus, the Syrian capital.

Karami's statement was issued after Israeli Transport Minister Moshe Carmel charged that Lebanon was responsible for the attack Tuesday on an El Al airliner in Zurich in which six persons on the plane were wounded and one guerrilla was killed.

Carmel, speaking to Israel's Parliament Wednesday, cited the publication in Beirut of a statement by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine claiming responsibility for the Zurich attack. But the statement had been issued earlier in Amman, the Jordanian capital; the Popular Front said the attack was planned in the Jordan River Valley, and Zurich police said the three surviving guerrillas told them they came from Damascus, the Syrian capital.

Newell Man, Others Await Jury Action

WHEELING — A 27-year-old Newell man and two others were bound over to the April term of the Ohio County Grand Jury Wednesday after they waived preliminary hearings before Squire Robert McColloch on charges of possession of narcotics.

A fourth member, however, remains in jail. Samuel C. Moore, 21, of Wheeling Wednesday requested time to obtain an attorney. He will reappear before Squire McColloch next Wednesday at 10 a.m.

The four were arrested after a telephoned tip to authorities. Police said they found about $360 worth of various drugs in a car the men were using. Officers waited in unmarked cars along a street in South Wheeling and made the arrests.

Rockefeller's Election Reform Plans Hit Snags

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Several of Secretary of State John D. Rockefeller IV's proposals for election reform appear stalled in House and Senate committee today, with less than three weeks before the end of the 59th legislature.

The Senate has approved two of the measures — one that would require county courts to develop up-to-date precinct maps and one that pertains to qualifications of executive members and officers of political party executive committees.

Two others were reported out for floor action by the Senate Elections Committee Wednesday. The committee recommended passage of bills that would set new restrictions for assistance in voting at the polls and new qualifications for election commissioners and poll clerks.

No action on any of the nine proposals submitted by Rockefeller on Jan. 31 has been reported from the House, although the two Senate-approved bills have been referred to the Judiciary Committee.

In Hancock Dispute

Pay Controversy Adds To Problem

Hancock County commissioners, already embroiled in a controversy over who should be sheriff, now await an opinion from the West Virginia attorney general before paying either the Democratic or Republican appointed deputies or sheriff.

Court members were about to make a formal decision Wednesday night authorizing the payment of Democrat Lou Smoleski and his deputies for the first 10 days of the month and Republican Patrick and his deputies for the remaining portion of February when a technicality was discovered which creates additional problems.

—:—

SMOLESKI'S deputies, who were ousted along with the sheriff after a West Virginia Supreme Court decision ruled about 50 ballots in Precinct 32 to be invalid, contend that they were hired on a monthly basis and were removed from their positions through no fault of their own and without notice. Therefore, they maintain they should be paid for the entire month of February.

The technicality concerns an affidavit which commissioners a number of years ago ruled must be signed before a deputy sheriff can collect his pay.

The affidavit stipulates that the check which the deputy receives is full compensation for the month's work.

Thus, if Smoleski's deputies signed the affidavit and collected 10 days pay, they would waive the right to be further compensated even though a ruling in their favor later was handed down.

On the other hand, if they do not sign the affidavit, they are not paid.

Jack Thayer, spokesmen for the unseated deputies, pointed out that officers are paid on a salary basis rather than hourly, and added that the men were given no notice that their jobs were to be terminated.

Thayer said some of the men at present have no other employment, so the additional money is most important to them.

"I don't see how you can justify not paying these men," Thayer told the commissioners.

—:—

HE SAID commissioners in past years have done one thing one time and something else another, therefore, setting no hard and fast precedent for action this year. He noted that about 20 men are involved, adding, "I don't give a damn what's in that book, I think you're bound morally to pay these people."

Commissioner Edward M. Nogay added that the commissioners concur completely.

Commissioner William C. Graham said, "I think the court agrees on this."

Prosecutor Edward Zagula then suggested he could call Atty. Gen. Chauncey Browning today, explaining that this is an emergency situation and asking for an immediate opinion on the matter.

Earlier in the meeting commissioners said they didn't believe they could compensate any of the deputies for the full month but agreed to await a higher opinion on the matter. The holdovers from one administration to the other will be paid for the entire month since they have been on the job throughout the transition periods.

Commissioners said two-thirds of the chief deputy's salary would revert to the sheriff's budget, since Patrick has named no chief for his force. Members pointed out portions of other salaries might be turned in too, since no lieutenants have been named.

Hancock To Retain Two Men As Deputies And Constables

Hancock County commissioners Wednesday night accepted the opinion of their legal counsel and agreed to retain two sheriff's deputies who also are serving as constables.

Prosecutor Edward Zagula told Commissioners Edward M. Nogay, William C. Graham and Joseph Manypenny that a 1967 law passed by the West Virginia legislature amends a statute passed in 1956 and now allows an elected constable to serve in an appointive capacity in the county.

However, commissioners were quick to note, the two men in question, Harold Davis of Chester and Carl Durham of Newell, cannot bill the commissioners for arrests in criminal cases since they are on the payroll of the county. The men can carry out their elected duties of serving papers issued by justices of the peace, however.

In other action, the commissioners canceled the bonds of Lou Smoleski and his deputies who were removed from office after a state Supreme Court ruling held some Hancock ballots were illegally signed.

Bond for the widow of deceased Squire Lee Raich of Weirton was approved.

A bill for the Tomlinson Run Public Service District was ordered paid.

Commissioners received $1,130 in checks for cancellation of an insurance policy on a truck at Tomlinson Run State Park and as compensation for the truck which was destroyed by fire.

A bill for the community shelter program was signed for payment.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Claudio Monteverdi's "Orfeo" (1607), which has been called the first opera, continues to be performed today. Although Peri's opera, "Euridice," preceded "Orfeo" by seven years, it is considered too feeble to rank as a first. Monteverdi developed the arioso, a singing style midway between speech and aria, and introduced string tremolo and pizzicato to heighten the sense of drama.

GIs Wounded In Viet War Top 200,000

SAIGON (AP) — The total number of Americans wounded in the Vietnam war has passed the 200,000 mark.

The U.S. Command said today 197 Americans were killed in action last week, and 1,103 were wounded. This brought the total number of American combat dead since Jan. 1, 1961, to 31,759 and the total wounded to 200,792.

The number of dead was the second highest of the year but roughly average for recent months. The week before 183 U.S. servicemen were killed.

South Vietnamese officials issued no casualty figures, and a spokesman said the weekly report had not been prepared yet because of delays. He did not explain, but presumably celebration of the Tet Lunar new year festival was responsible.

The U.S. Command said that in the week ending Feb. 15, 2,549 enemy soldiers were killed last week, bringing the total for the war to 447,356. The week before the total had been 2,264, and the U.S. Command increased it today to 2,467 on the basis of later reports.

A total of 8,808 Americans have been reported killed since the preliminary peace talks began in Paris last May 13, and 1,702 since South Vietnam joined the expanded talks on Dec. 7.

Chief Robert Lewis said no damage resulted.

A Wet Rainy Season

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rainfall in normally arid Los Angeles topped 20 inches for the season Tuesday, making it the wettest "rainy season" here since 1889 when 32 inches were recorded. There are about 20 rainy days and total rainfall of about 10 inches in a normal season, mainly winter months. It already has rained 17 days this year.

March Arraignment Set In Assault Case

A 14-year-old Wellsville boy will be arraigned at 9 a. m. March 6 before Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on a complaint of assault on an 18-year-old married woman about 7:40 a.m. Tuesday at Clements Laundromat in Wellsville.

James Miller, Juvenile Court probation officer, filed the complaint Tuesday on information furnished by Chief of Police John Hephner of Wellsville. The woman was the only other person in the laundry when the boy grabbed her, officers said.

The U.S. Command said today 197 Americans were killed in action last week, and 1,103 were wounded. This brought the total number of American combat dead since Jan. 1, 1961, to 31,759 and the total wounded to 200,792.

The number of dead was the second highest of the year but roughly average for recent months. The week before 183 U.S. servicemen were killed.

South Vietnamese officials issued no casualty figures, and a spokesman said the weekly report had not been prepared yet because of delays. He did not explain, but presumably celebration of the Tet Lunar new year festival was responsible.

The U.S. Command said that in the week ending Feb. 15, 2,549 enemy soldiers were killed last week, bringing the total for the war to 447,356. The week before the total had been 2,264, and the U.S. Command increased it today to 2,467 on the basis of later reports.

A total of 8,808 Americans have been reported killed since the preliminary peace talks began in Paris last May 13, and 1,702 since South Vietnam joined the expanded talks on Dec. 7.

To Get People's Thinking

Nixon Planning To Meet Man-On-Street In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to go beyond the palaces and ministries to the man-on-the-street to get a feeling of all the people's thinking during his European tour.

In addition to the some 50 hours of official conferences in London, Bonn, Paris and Rome, Nixon has asked to see small groups of citizens who can provide him with a sampling of their opinion to go along with the official views he will be hearing.

"We want people who will talk to the President and who will give him some feel of what people in the country are thinking about and talking about," a White House official said. "He wants off the record meetings in order to encourage these people to talk with him."

Nixon leaves early Sunday for Brussels, first stop on an eight day mission which takes him on to London, Bonn, Berlin, Rome, Paris and then back to Rome. He returns to the United States March 2.

The schedule is crowded with conferences, ceremonies, working dinners, and a period set aside each day for the conduct of normal White House business.

The citizen sessions are an innovation and a White House official admits to some misgivings about the guest list—whether Nixon will really get the cross section he seeks.

The selections are being made by U.S. embassies and a Nixon aide said the President would like to see people ranging from working men to philosophers.

Most of the meetings will bring eight to 15 people to see the President for about an hour.

"It's a room full of comfortable chairs and cups of coffee," an official said. "The President will come in and encourage conversation. That's as much format as there is."

The format for Nixon's public travels is one of pomp and ceremony guided by the protocol of the nation involved. But a White House official said that even the formal dinners, most of them stag affairs, will be working sessions.

Nixon round of conferences is to begin shortly after his Sunday night arrival in Brussels, with a meeting with Belgium leaders.

In the week that follows, Nixon is expected to spend about 10 hours in conference with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, nine to 10 hours with West German officials, about six hours with Italian leaders, and nine to 10 hours with French President Charles de Gaulle.

On March 2, Nixon is to meet in Paris with U.S. diplomats involved in the Vietnam peace negotiations. An administration official left open the possibility that Nixon might see South Vietnamese as well as U.S. negotiators.

Thomas Baughman was inducted as a member during a meeting of the Road Roamers Citizens Band Radio Club at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. branch at St. Clair Plaza.

Committees were appointed for the "coffee break" to be held at the Penova Hall on Route 45, Wellsville, March 16. They include: Joseph and Lois Slager, Doris Taylor and Donna McGurren, food, and A. C. Pinkerton Sr., Tom Bratt and Mike McGurran, prizes.

Prizes will be awarded the club with the most members present, at least five, and for the longest distances traveled.

George Barton received the mystery prize.

Mission's Directors Prepare For Election

A nominating committee was chosen when directors of the Community Rescue Mission met Tuesday night.

Eston Maple, president, said the board will meet again March 18.

City To Get More Historical Signs For Approaches

East Liverpool is scheduled to receive two more signs produced by the Ohio Historical Society calling attention of travelers to the fact that James Bennett founded the Ohio pottery industry here more than six generations ago.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey was advised in a letter today by David R. Porter, director of the state historical society, that the additional signs were made available through the East Liverpool Historical Society. They will be delivered to the Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, which will erect them along two more approaches to the city, Porter said.

A blue shield formed in the likenes of Ohio's outline, the signs give the city's name and cite Bennett as the founder of the Ohio pottery industry.

The markers will be erected on Harvey Ave. (Route 39) at the Ohio - Pennsylvanis line and on Route 7 near Shadyside Ave., Vodrey said. The first two markers were placed near the East Liverpool end of the Chester Bridge and on the Freeway.

Airborne geologists, using an infrared scanner as an aerial divining rod over the coast of Hawaii, have charted underground streams of rainwater flowing toward the sea.

To Get People's Thinking

Nixon Planning To Meet Man-On-Street In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to go beyond the palaces and ministries to the man-on-the-street to get a feeling of all the people's thinking during his European tour.

In addition to the some 50 hours of official conferences in London, Bonn, Paris and Rome, Nixon has asked to see small groups of citizens who can provide him with a sampling of their opinion to go along with the official views he will be hearing.

"We want people who will talk to the President and who will give him some feel of what people in the country are thinking about and talking about," a White House official said. "He wants off the record meetings in order to encourage these people to talk with him."

Nixon leaves early Sunday for Brussels, first stop on an eight day mission which takes him on to London, Bonn, Berlin, Rome, Paris and then back to Rome. He returns to the United States March 2.

The schedule is crowded with conferences, ceremonies, working dinners, and a period set aside each day for the conduct of normal White House business.

The citizen sessions are an innovation and a White House official admits to some misgivings about the guest list—whether Nixon will really get the cross section he seeks.

The selections are being made by U.S. embassies and a Nixon aide said the President would like to see people ranging from working men to philosophers.

Most of the meetings will bring eight to 15 people to see the President for about an hour.

"It's a room full of comfortable chairs and cups of coffee," an official said. "The President will come in and encourage conversation. That's as much format as there is."

The format for Nixon's public travels is one of pomp and ceremony guided by the protocol of the nation involved. But a White House official said that even the formal dinners, most of them stag affairs, will be working sessions.

Nixon round of conferences is to begin shortly after his Sunday night arrival in Brussels, with a meeting with Belgium leaders.

In the week that follows, Nixon is expected to spend about 10 hours in conference with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, nine to 10 hours with West German officials, about six hours with Italian leaders, and nine to 10 hours with French President Charles de Gaulle.

On March 2, Nixon is to meet in Paris with U.S. diplomats involved in the Vietnam peace negotiations. An administration official left open the possibility that Nixon might see South Vietnamese as well as U.S. negotiators.

City To Get More Historical Signs For Approaches

East Liverpool is scheduled to receive two more signs produced by the Ohio Historical Society calling attention of travelers to the fact that James Bennett founded the Ohio pottery industry here more than six generations ago.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey was advised in a letter today by David R. Porter, director of the state historical society, that the additional signs were made available through the East Liverpool Historical Society. They will be delivered to the Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, which will erect them along two more approaches to the city, Porter said.

A blue shield formed in the likenes of Ohio's outline, the signs give the city's name and cite Bennett as the founder of the Ohio pottery industry.

The markers will be erected on Harvey Ave. (Route 39) at the Ohio - Pennsylvanis line and on Route 7 near Shadyside Ave., Vodrey said. The first two markers were placed near the East Liverpool end of the Chester Bridge and on the Freeway.

Youths Held In Midland Home Entry

Three Midland youths and one from Monaca were taken to Allencrest Detention Home Wednesday after they were apprehended by Midland police in the midst of a burglary at a home Tuesday.

Two of the youths were charged with the entering at the home of Charles R. Schmitt of Virginia Ave., former Crucible Steel Co. executive, and two were charged with being accessories.

An officer was assigned to take up watch inside the home where he remained on duty throughout the day. At 8 p. m. a youth entered the home and went to the bar to get another bottle, and when he returned to place it in the box, the officer halted him.

When the youth attempted to run, the officer called him by name and he returned. Another youth on watch outside and two others in a nearby auto fled, but one was taken into custody later Tuesday night and the other two Wednesday.

ANN LANDERS

Something For Nothing?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know that the majority of people in this country are dumb, careless, lazy and they love to chisel? I retired just in time. I don't think I could have survived another 30 days of dealing with the lousy American public.

As the head of a repair service department, I met just about everybody. This is what I learned: All kinds of people — the well educated, the ignorant, the rich, the poor, the old and the young — they all want something for nothing.

Furthermore, they can't read or they don't want to. They ignore instructions and assume that the rules were written for other people.

They bring in electric coffeemakers, toasters, irons, portable radios, stereos — and they want free service.

It's covered by the warranty," they announce as if they have uttered some magic words. When I asked, "Where is the warranty?" they looked shocked and replied, "I threw it out. I never keep that junk!"

My next question, "Do you have a bill of sale?" produced such responses as, "Who do you think you're talking to? Are you trying to say I stole this radio?"

I've been called every rotten name in the book and several names not in any book. Some people think the dirtier they talk to the salesperson, the more intimidated he will become and the better their chances of getting something for nothing.

Please print my letter, Ann.

Maybe it will shake up a few million people. And it might make life a little easier for the unfortunate woman who took my job. — LIBERATED AT LAST.

Dear Lib: Customers bringing in broken appliances are understandably irritated and belligerent. This is no justification for abusing salespeople, however, and I hope all the rude and thoughtless customers will take note.

Skirted Issue

Dear Ann: Our college sophomore daughter is going steady with a law student. His name is Jason. A few weeks ago Cynthia wore a pantsuit and her boy friend didn't like it. He told her to go put on a skirt. She refused. Finally he said, "okay, you win, but this isn't the end of it."

Last night Jason showed up in a skirt. My husband answered the door and almost collapsed. You can't imagine the shock of seeing a 6-foot-1, 200-pounder in knee socks (hairy legs showing) — wearing a plaid jumper with pleats. When Cynthia saw him she gasped. Jason greeted her with, "It's a kilt."

They left to fight it out in private. My husband thinks Cynthia should not have gone with him. I don't know what to think. Do you? — HUNG JURY.

Dear Jury: It sounds like a kilt to me, Madame, in which case, yes, it's a respectable outfit. Somewhat unconventional unless worn to a clan meeting, but respectable, nevertheless.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

County Planners Appoint Four To Executive Board

LISBON — Four members were named to the executive committee of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

The new appointees are Howard Firestone, whom the county commissioners recommended to represent Butler Township; Herbert Thompson of East Liverpool RD 2, recommended by St. Clair Township trustees to replace Richard Mattern of Glenmoor, and Frank Mangano and Tait Hilbert, both recommended by the City of East Liverpool to replace Dr. K. W. Turner and Charles Lang.

The committee last night accepted the comprehensive plan prepared by McLean and McGraw, consulting engineering firm in Youngstown, but deferred adoption of the plan pending certain small changes, according to James L. Morrissey, RPC director.

A discussion was held on proposed revisions of subdivision regulations. The committee adjourned to have a special meeting March 4 at the Wick Hotel here.

40-Mile Limit Set For Section Of Y. & O. Road

LISBON — Bert A. Dawson Jr., Columbiana County engineer, Wednesday announced receipt of a letted from the Ohio Highway Department approving the posting of 40-mile-per-hour signs on a 2½-mile stretch of County Road 424 (Y. & O. Rd.) through Glenmoor. He said the signs will be erected soon.

The engineer also received notice the Route 164 project at the south edge of Lisbon has been submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads for program approval.

The project will include a new bridge over the middle fork of Little Beaver Creek and improvement of the road for fourtenths of a mile, including a portion of S. Lincoln Ave.

The crabapple is the original wild tree. Our native crabapples are stunted and produce small, sour apples, better for jelly than for eating.

Wellsville Man Fined And Another Forfeits

A Wellsville man was fined Wednesday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a traffic offense and another forfeited an appearance bond.

Bernard Perry, 28, of 600 12th St. was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of crashing a traffic light at 5:53 a.m. Tuesday at Lisbon and W. 8th Sts.

Triss A. Sutherin, 22, of 2001 Nevada St. forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Friday at 8:12 p.m. on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Tax Pleas Board Sets Hearings On March 24

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals has scheduled a public hearing March 24 to consider proposed changes in board rules governing assessment and equalization of real estate.

The proposed changes are the result of an Ohio Supreme Court order last December that the board amend its rules for the assessment of real property by uniform rule according to value.

ANN LANDERS

Something For Nothing?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know that the majority of people in this country are dumb, careless, lazy and they love to chisel? I retired just in time. I don't think I could have survived another 30 days of dealing with the lousy American public.

As the head of a repair service department, I met just about everybody. This is what I learned: All kinds of people — the well educated, the ignorant, the rich, the poor, the old and the young — they all want something for nothing.

Furthermore, they can't read or they don't want to. They ignore instructions and assume that the rules were written for other people.

They bring in electric coffeemakers, toasters, irons, portable radios, stereos — and they want free service.

It's covered by the warranty," they announce as if they have uttered some magic words. When I asked, "Where is the warranty?" they looked shocked and replied, "I threw it out. I never keep that junk!"

My next question, "Do you have a bill of sale?" produced such responses as, "Who do you think you're talking to? Are you trying to say I stole this radio?"

I've been called every rotten name in the book and several names not in any book. Some people think the dirtier they talk to the salesperson, the more intimidated he will become and the better their chances of getting something for nothing.

Please print my letter, Ann. Maybe it will shake up a few million people. And it might make life a little easier for the unfortunate woman who took my job. — LIBERATED AT LAST.

Dear Lib: Customers bringing in broken appliances are understandably irritated and belligerent. This is no justification for abusing salespeople, however, and I hope all the rude and thoughtless customers will take note.

Skirted Issue

Dear Ann: Our college sophomore daughter is going steady with a law student. His name is Jason. A few weeks ago Cynthia wore a pantsuit and her boy friend didn't like it. He told her to go put on a skirt. She refused. Finally he said, "okay, you win, but this isn't the end of it."

Last night Jason showed up in a skirt. My husband answered the door and almost collapsed. You can't imagine the shock of seeing a 6-foot-1, 200-pounder in knee socks (hairy legs showing) — wearing a plaid jumper with pleats. When Cynthia saw him she gasped. Jason greeted her with, "It's a kilt."

They left to fight it out in private. My husband thinks Cynthia should not have gone with him. I don't know what to think. Do you? — HUNG JURY.

Dear Jury: It sounds like a kilt to me, Madame, in which case, yes, it's a respectable outfit. Somewhat unconventional unless worn to a clan meeting, but respectable, nevertheless.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

County Planners Appoint Four To Executive Board

LISBON — Four members were named to the executive committee of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

The new appointees are Howard Firestone, whom the county commissioners recommended to represent Butler Township; Herbert Thompson of East Liverpool RD 2, recommended by St. Clair Township trustees to replace Richard Mattern of Glenmoor, and Frank Mangano and Tait Hilbert, both recommended by the City of East Liverpool to replace Dr. K. W. Turner and Charles Lang.

The committee last night accepted the comprehensive plan prepared by McLean and McGraw, consulting engineering firm in Youngstown, but deferred adoption of the plan pending certain small changes, according to James L. Morrissey, RPC director.

A discussion was held on proposed revisions of subdivision regulations. The committee adjourned to have a special meeting March 4 at the Wick Hotel here.

40-Mile Limit Set For Section Of Y. & O. Road

LISBON — Bert A. Dawson Jr., Columbiana County engineer, Wednesday announced receipt of a letted from the Ohio Highway Department approving the posting of 40-mile-per-hour signs on a 2½-mile stretch of County Road 424 (Y. & O. Rd.) through Glenmoor. He said the signs will be erected soon.

The engineer also received notice the Route 164 project at the south edge of Lisbon has been submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads for program approval.

The project will include a new bridge over the middle fork of Little Beaver Creek and improvement of the road for four-tenths of a mile, including a portion of S. Lincoln Ave.

Bernard Perry, 23, of 600 12th St. was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of crashing a traffic light at 5:53 a.m. Tuesday at Lisbon and W. 8th Sts.

Triss A. Sutherin, 22, of 2001 Nevada St. forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Friday at 8:12 p.m. on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Tax Pleas Board Sets Hearings On March 24

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals has scheduled a public hearing March 24 to consider proposed changes in board rules governing assessment and equalization of real estate.

The proposed changes are the result of an Ohio Supreme Court order last December that the board amend its rules for the assessment of real property by uniform rule according to value.

Laird Given Double Task On A-Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was handed the double task today of urging prompt ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty while defending the administration's apparent intention to press ahead with atomic missile defense.

Ostensibly, Laird and Sen. Earle C. Wheeler, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff were called before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to present the administration case for approval of the treaty.

But it was clear from questioning of Secretary of State William P. Rogers Tuesday that critics of the Sentinel missile defense system consider the hearings a forum to advance their cause.

The critics of the Sentinel, which would use nuclear-armed missiles to destroy incoming enemy missiles, argue its deployment would conflict with the treaty's provision for negotiations on nuclear disarmament.

They cited Article VI of the nonproliferation treaty, which calls for negotiations leading eventually to general disarmament.

The critics argue the administration should at least try to enter into negotiations with the Soviet Union on missile disarmament before proceeding with the ABM.

Rogers rejected that view Tuesday.

Lard has suspended deployment of the Sentinel system and ordered a Pentagon study of the program in the face of increasing congressional criticism and citizen protests.

But there have been indications work will be resumed, probably on sites away from population centers.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said in a Senate speech Wednesday the Pentagon review was not the kind he had hoped for and he had commissioned his own.

It will be done for him by Dr. Jerome Wiesner of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who was a science advisor to President Kennedy and Johnson, and Prof. Abram Chayes of Harvard University, who was a legal adviser to the State Department in 1961-64.

The Berg Brothers Aren't Exactly Fickle

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — The Berg brothers of North Dakota are not exactly the fickle kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Berg of Bismarck celebrated their 60th anniversary recently. Guests at the celebration included three of Berg's brothers, all of whom have been married more than 50 years.

Christ Berg and Elizabeth Neumiller were married in 1908. Carl Berg married Jessie Tapplin in 1915, Ed Berg married Jessie Tapplin's sister, May, 1917. And John Berg married Lydia Wagner in 1918.

Nearing the golden circle is a sister of the Berg men, Mrs. Ed Eslinger, who was married in 1921.

Water Firm Bootleggers Cited In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee was told Wednesday that there are "literally hundreds of water companies operating as bootleggers in Ohio."

N. R. Patton, chief engineer of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCA), said since World War II there has been a great proliferation of small, inadequately financed water companies starting up in housing developments.

He said the companies sometimes serve as few as 100 people and never have filed rate schedules with the commission, as required by law.

"We don't even know some of them exist until someone complains about the poor service," he said.

Patton urged the committee to approve a bill requiring water works companies to obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity from PUCO before being allowed to operate.

"This way we could stop the problems of inadequate and unsanitary systems before they get started," he said.

The Judiciary Committee also approved and sent to the floor a bill authorizing local law enforcement officers to apprehend any juveniles who have escaped from an Ohio Youth Commission institution.

Under present Ohio law, there is no provision for the return of youngsters.

The committee also held its first hearing on a bill to eliminate the five-month minimum commitment period for juveniles sent to the Youth Commission.

Joseph L. White, acting deputy director for community services, testified that to his knowledge Ohio was the only state having a minimum commitment period for juveniles.

In earlier floor action, identical Democratic - sponsored bills were introduced in both Houses to split the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two separate departments.

Prior to 1954, they were separate divisions. Ironically, it was the Democratic administration of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle that combined them.

"The department should be separated because it has grown so large, and the burden so great, that to ask one man to supervise it is no longer feasible," said A. G. Lancione, D-30 Bellaire, one of the 22 House sponsors.

Under the bill, more emphasis and status would be given to mental retardation. It would establish a bureau of mental retardation within the Department of Mental Health.

The bill provides that the Mental Health Department would continue to be responsible for the treatment of the criminally insane, psychopathic offenders and mentally deficient offenders.

The bill is not expected to be adopted because the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes is against two separate departments.

Health Services

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Department of Mental Health reports that 100 of the state's 120 counties now have community mental health - mental retardation services available.

Sale Of Off-Shore Oil, Gas Leases Called Off By Hickel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, in his third action of the week aimed at preventing another "Santa Barbara tragedy," today called off the sale of offshore oil and gas leases.

The sale of 27 Gulfcoast tracts that could have brought the government millions of dollars, was scheduled for next Tuesday and was the only such sale of federal offshore leases imminent.

Hickel said the sale would be postponed "until we are positive we have regulations which will prevent pollution such as the Santa Barbara tragedy."

He referred to the 11-day leak of a Union Oil Co. well which spread an 800-square-mile slick across the Santa Barbara channel off California before it was plugged Feb. 8.

Earlier this week, Hickel issued regulations holding oil companies responsible for cleanup and damage costs from any offshore-well pollution and proposed new and tighter regulations for drilling in the Santa Barbara channel.

Oil and gas leases along the Gulf of Mexico coastline already have brought the Interior Department close to $200 million in bonus bids.

Sixteen tracts were leased Nov. 19, 1968 for a total of $150 million in bonuses, followed by another 20 tracts for $44 million Jan. 14.

Preliminary steps have been taken toward the possible leasing late this year of areas off Alaska, but that sale has not yet been definitely scheduled.

Announcing the latest move, Hickel said, "We have postponed the Gulf Coast sale as another step in the exhaustive review being conducted into all aspects of federal offshore drilling and production.

"Consequently, any bids received for the Louisiana tracts will be returned to the sender unopened."

"In announcing this postponement," he added, "I again declare that monetary considerations must not be allowed to obstruct consideration of what is best to protect the environment in which we live."

Pennsylvania House Okays Miners Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill to increase monthly benefits to an estimated 24,000 former coal miners totally disabled by a lung disease commonly called miner's asthma.

The bill was approved 115-61. Opposition came solely from Republicans and was based on what Gov. Shafer has referred to as the state's "fiscal crisis."

Democrats who gave solid support to the measure argued that there was more than enough revenue in the occupational disease fund to meet the estimated $7.2 million annual cost of the expanded benefits. Nineteen GOP members voted for the bill.

Similar legislation was approved by the General Assembly last year, but it was vetoed by the governor. In his veto message Dec. 27, Shafer was critical of the bill's proponents for not proposing new taxes to finance the increase.

Benefits would be raised from the current $75 to $100 a month under the House-approved bill, which was co-sponsored by Rep. John Wansacz, D-Lackawanna, and others from the state's coal regions.

There was no indication that the governor had changed his attitude regarding the legislation unless, of course, the legislature votes the income tax he has proposed, and the possibility of that appeared to be dwindling daily.

The vote on the miner's asthma bill came shortly before the House joined the Senate in recess. The Senate did not meet this week, but both bodies were scheduled to reconvene next Monday.

In other key House developments:

— Bills were introduced to raise the tax on beer and cigarettes to finance the Vietnam veterans' bonus bond issue, but a key member of the Senate said the proposed increase was unnecessary.

— The House authorized an investigation into enforcement of the state's narcotics laws with particular emphasis on administration plans to transfer major enforcement responsibilities from the Health Department to the State Police.

Laird Given Double Task On A-Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was handed the double task today of urging prompt ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty while defending the administration's apparent intention to press ahead with atomic missile defense.

Ostensibly, Laird and Sen. Earle C. Wheeler, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff were called before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to present the administration case for approval of the treaty.

But it was clear from questioning of Secretary of State William P. Rogers Tuesday that critics of the Sentinel missile defense system consider the hearings a forum to advance their cause.

The critics of the Sentinel, which would use nuclear-armed missiles to destroy incoming enemy missiles, argue its deployment would conflict with the treaty's provision for negotiations on nuclear disarmament.

They cited Article VI of the nonproliferation treaty, which calls for negotiations leading eventually to general disarmament.

The critics argue the administration should at least try to enter into negotiations with the Soviet Union on missile disarmament before proceeding with the ABM.

Rogers rejected that view Tuesday.

Lard has suspended deployment of the Sentinel system and ordered a Pentagon study of the program in the face of increasing congressional criticism and citizen protests.

But there have been indications work will be resumed, probably on sites away from population centers.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said in a Senate speech Wednesday the Pentagon review was not the kind he had hoped for and he had commissioned his own.

It will be done for him by Dr. Jerome Wiesner of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who was a science advisor to President Kennedy and Johnson, and Prof. Abram Chayes of Harvard University, who was a legal adviser to the State Department in 1961-64.

The Berg Brothers Aren't Exactly Fickle

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — The Berg brothers of North Dakota are not exactly the fickle kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Berg of Bismarck celebrated their 60th anniversary recently. Guests at the celebration included three of Berg's brothers, all of whom have been married more than 50 years.

Christ Berg and Elizabeth Neumiller were married in 1908. Carl Berg married Jessie Tapplin in 1915, Ed Berg married Jessie Tapplin's sister, May, 1917. And John Berg married Lydia Wagner in 1918.

Nearing the golden circle is a sister of the Berg men, Mrs. Ed Eslinger, who was married in 1921.

Water Firm Bootleggers Cited In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee was told Wednesday that there are "literally hundreds of water companies operating as bootleggers in Ohio."

N. R. Patton, chief engineer of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCA), said since World War II there has been a great proliferation of small, inadequately financed water companies starting up in housing developments.

He said the companies sometimes serve as few as 100 people and never have filed rate schedules with the commission, as required by law.

"We don't even know some of them exist until someone complains about the poor service," he said.

Patton urged the committee to approve a bill requiring water works companies to obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity from PUCO before being allowed to operate.

"This way we could stop the problems of inadequate and unsanitary systems before they get started," he said.

The Judiciary Committee also approved and sent to the floor a bill authorizing local law enforcement officers to apprehend any juveniles who have escaped from an Ohio Youth Commission institution.

Under present Ohio law, there is no provision for the return of youngsters.

The committee also held its first hearing on a bill to eliminate the five-month minimum commitment period for juveniles sent to the Youth Commission.

Joseph L. White, acting deputy director for community services, testified that to his knowledge Ohio was the only state having a minimum commitment period for juveniles.

In earlier floor action, identical Democratic - sponsored bills were introduced in both Houses to split the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two separate departments.

Prior to 1954, they were separate divisions. Ironically, it was the Democratic administration of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle that combined them.

"The department should be separated because it has grown so large, and the burden so great, that to ask one man to supervise it is no longer feasible," said A. G. Lancione, D-30 Bellaire, one of the 22 House sponsors.

Under the bill, more emphasis and status would be given to mental retardation. It would establish a bureau of mental retardation within the Department of Mental Health.

The bill provides that the Mental Health Department would continue to be responsible for the treatment of the criminally insane, psychopathic offenders and mentally deficient offenders.

The bill is not expected to be adopted because the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes is against two separate departments.

Health Services

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Department of Mental Health reports that 100 of the state's 120 counties now have community mental health - mental retardation services available.

Pennsylvania House Okays Miners Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill to increase monthly benefits to an estimated 24,000 former coal miners totally disabled by a lung disease commonly called miner's asthma.

The bill was approved 115-61. Opposition came solely from Republicans and was based on what Gov. Shafer has referred to as the state's "fiscal crisis."

Democrats who gave solid support to the measure argued that there was more than enough revenue in the occupational disease fund to meet the estimated $7.2 million annual cost of the expanded benefits. Nineteen GOP members voted for the bill.

Similar legislation was approved by the General Assembly last year, but it was vetoed by the governor. In his veto message Dec. 27, Shafer was critical of the bill's proponents for not proposing new taxes to finance the increase.

Benefits would be raised from the current $75 to $100 a month under the House-approved bill, which was co-sponsored by Rep. John Wansacz, D-Lackawanna, and others from the state's coal regions.

There was no indication that the governor had changed his attitude regarding the legislation unless, of course, the legislature votes the income tax he has proposed, and the possibility of that appeared to be dwindling daily.

The vote on the miner's asthma bill came shortly before the House joined the Senate in recess. The Senate did not meet this week, but both bodies were scheduled to reconvene next Monday.

In other key House developments:

— Bills were introduced to raise the tax on beer and cigarettes to finance the Vietnam veterans' bonus bond issue, but a key member of the Senate said the proposed increase was unnecessary.

— The House authorized an investigation into enforcement of the state's narcotics laws with particular emphasis on administration plans to transfer major enforcement responsibilities from the Health Department to the State Police.

Sale Of Off-Shore Oil, Gas Leases Called Off By Hickel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, in his third action of the week aimed at preventing another "Santa Barbara tragedy," today called off the sale of offshore oil and gas leases.

The sale of 27 Gulfcoast tracts that could have brought the government millions of dollars, was scheduled for next Tuesday and was the only such sale of federal offshore leases imminent.

Hickel said the sale would be postponed "until we are positive we have regulations which will prevent pollution such as the Santa Barbara tragedy."

He referred to the 11-day leak of a Union Oil Co. well which spread an 800-square-mile slick across the Santa Barbara channel off California before it was plugged Feb. 8.

Earlier this week, Hickel issued regulations holding oil companies responsible for cleanup and damage costs from any offshore-well pollution and proposed new and tighter regulations for drilling in the Santa Barbara channel.

Oil and gas leases along the Gulf of Mexico coastline already have brought the Interior Department close to $200 million in bonus bids.

Sixteen tracts were leased Nov. 19, 1968 for a total of $150 million in bonuses, followed by another 20 tracts for $44 million Jan. 14.

Preliminary steps have been taken toward the possible leasing late this year of areas off Alaska, but that sale has not yet been definitely scheduled.

Announcing the latest move, Hickel said, "We have postponed the Gulf Coast sale as another step in the exhaustive review being conducted into all aspects of federal offshore drilling and production.

"Consequently, any bids received for the Louisiana tracts will be returned to the sender unopened."

"In announcing this postponement," he added, "I again declare that monetary considerations must not be allowed to obstruct consideration of what is best to protect the environment in which we live."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Rug Shrinkage Problem

DEAR HELOISE: I don't know what has happened to my carpet. It is wall-to-wall, fastened at the edges, but it's pulling away and leaving gaps all around the edges.

BETH SCHAEFER.

-:-

DEAR BETH: I discussed your problem with the National Institute of Rug Cleaning and they advised me that most rugs and carpets will shrink when the backing gets wet.

Heloise

Some backings are made of cotton or rayon and will shrink as much as seven to twelve per cent when wetted. But most backings are made of jute and it will shrink only about two per cent. If a second backing is used on the rug, or latex is used in the backing, less shrinking will usually occur.

So shrinkage of rugs and carpets is caused when the backing gets wet or damp. Either during cleaning or . . . in high humidity areas, they will absorb moisture from the air and may shrink a little.

Of course, professional rug cleaners know how, and have the equipment to clean and dry them properly, to keep shrinkage to a minimum.

So, Beth, if those gaps are noticeable, I'd have a professional stretch it back in place, if possible.

Maybe someday, all rugs and carpets will be pre-shrunk and we won't encounter your problem anymore.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I needed a king-size pin cushion for my large brooches which took up too much room in my jewel box.

Not being able to locate a really BIG one for me, my niece bought and covered a wig form with rose velvet and gold lace.

It now holds my oversize brooches, as well as pins of all shapes and sizes and looks like Queen Elizabeth's fanciest crown!

It's so very handy and removed the clutter from my jewelry case.

LOU T.

DEAR HELOISE: If your baby keeps crying after that 2 a.m. feeding when put back into the crib, it may be from the shock of leaving the warmth of his mother's arms and being placed in a cold crib.

I keep a small heating pad by the crib. When I pick up my baby for his feeding, I put the heating pad where he had been sleeping, turn it on low and cover it with the covers that were over him.

After he is finished feeding and ready to be returned to his crib, I remove the heating pad and his bed is nice and warm. He falls back to sleep again quickly.

MRS. R. SCHNIERLEIN.

DEAR HELOISE: I have five boys, ages two to seven. They all have the same kind of house slippers.

As the younger ones can't read their names, I drew little pictures on each slipper — a heart for one, a little cat, and a house.

No more problems now with whose slippers belong to whom.

MRS. R. BAILLARGEON.

DEAR HELOISE: The manufacturers of detergents add so much of this, that, and the other to their products. Do you think they possibly add some dirt, too?

My clothes surely wouldn't contain all of the goop I find in the bottom of the washing machine!

AMY.

DEAR HELOISE: I couldn't find curtains I liked for my baby's room.

So I made some plain ones from inexpensive cotton. Then using a pattern for small stuffed animals, I cut, and appliqued them on the curtains. One needn't cut out the whole animal — just one thickness will do.

I used buttons for eyes and stuffed the animals with just a little foam rubber to give it a raised effect before appliqueing it on.

They are darling and I get many compliments.

ADRIENNE BERNHARDT.

U.S. Will Act To Curb South Malnutrition

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, under prodding by senators investigating hunger in the nation has acted to relieve the severe malnutrition afflicting two rural Southern counties.

Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin agreed to make free food available to the two South Carolina counties by providing food stamps to eligible citizens at no cost.

Hardin agreed to allow the free stamps, subject to state and local approval, in a meeting Wednesday with Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., chairman of the Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, and Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C.

McGovern, who originally urged the administration to send surplus food directly to Beaufort and Jasper counties, said the stamp plan "will be a pilot program that will give us some operating experience" in meeting hunger problems.

"I think this is a healthy way to do it," McGovern told a reporter, adding "I think it was a real breakthrough."

Hollings, who Tuesday said federal red tape was standing in the way of feeding the hungry in his state, also indicate he was satisfied with the quick action.

It was understood the federal government would pick up the cost of the stamps, which usually cost the recipient a small charge.

Testimony before the committee this week indicated a substantial malnutrition problem in South Carolina, complicated by widespread disease including substantial infestation of intestinal worms, especially in Negro children.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Rug Shrinkage Problem

DEAR HELOISE: I don't know what has happened to my carpet. It is wall-to-wall, fastened at the edges, but it's pulling away and leaving gaps all around the edges.

BETH SCHAEFER.

-:-

DEAR BETH: I discussed your problem with the National Institute of Rug Cleaning and they advised me that most rugs and carpets will shrink when the backing gets wet.

Heloise

Some backings are made of cotton or rayon and will shrink as much as seven to twelve per cent when wetted. But most backings are made of jute and it will shrink only about two per cent. If a second backing is used on the rug, or latex is used in the backing, less shrinking will usually occur.

So shrinkage of rugs and carpets is caused when the backing gets wet or damp. Either during cleaning or . . . in high humidity areas, they will absorb moisture from the air and may shrink a little.

Of course, professional rug cleaners know how, and have the equipment to clean and dry them properly, to keep shrinkage to a minimum.

So, Beth, if those gaps are noticeable, I'd have a professional stretch it back in place, if possible.

Maybe someday, all rugs and carpets will be pre-shrunk and we won't encounter your problem anymore.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I needed a king-size pin cushion for my large brooches which took up too much room in my jewel box.

Not being able to locate a really BIG one for me, my niece bought and covered a wig form with rose velvet and gold lace.

It now holds my oversize brooches, as well as pins of all shapes and sizes and looks like Queen Elizabeth's fanciest crown!

It's so very handy and removed the clutter from my jewelry case.

LOU T.

DEAR HELOISE: If your baby keeps crying after that 2 a.m. feeding when put back into the crib, it may be from the shock of leaving the warmth of his mother's arms and being placed in a cold crib.

I keep a small heating pad by the crib. When I pick up my baby for his feeding, I put the heating pad where he had been sleeping, turn it on low and cover it with the covers that were over him.

After he is finished feeding and ready to be returned to his crib, I remove the heating pad and his bed is nice and warm. He falls back to sleep again quickly.

MRS. R. SCHNIERLEIN.

DEAR HELOISE: I have five boys, ages two to seven. They all have the same kind of house slippers.

As the younger ones can't read their names, I drew little pictures on each slipper — a heart for one, a little cat, and a house.

No more problems now with whose slippers belong to whom.

MRS. R. BAILLARGEON.

DEAR HELOISE: The manufacturers of detergents add so much of this, that, and the other to their products. Do you think they possibly add some dirt, too?

My clothes surely wouldn't contain all of the goop I find in the bottom of the washing machine!

AMY.

DEAR HELOISE: I couldn't find curtains I liked for my baby's room.

So I made some plain ones from inexpensive cotton. Then using a pattern for small stuffed animals, I cut, and appliqued them on the curtains. One needn't cut out the whole animal — just one thickness will do.

I used buttons for eyes and stuffed the animals with just a little foam rubber to give it a raised effect before appliqueing it on.

They are darling and I get many compliments.

ADRIENNE BERNHARDT.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The narrow 148-mile-long Housatonic River, rising in the Berkshires and flowing through Connecticut into Long Island Sound, is the site of little trade or transportation. Yet the river is of inestimable value. Removed but not remote from New York and Boston, it is the refuge of many, especially artists and writers, who draw from the Housatonic not only recreation but re-creation.

John Gay's "Beggars' Opera" has been called the "granddaddy of musical comedy." A hilarious takeoff on Italian opera in Gay's time, it has frequently been revived.

U.S. Will Act To Curb South Malnutrition

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, under prodding by senators investigating hunger in the nation has acted to relieve the severe malnutrition afflicting two rural Southern counties.

Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin agreed to make free food available to the two South Carolina counties by providing food stamps to eligible citizens at no cost.

Hardin agreed to allow the free stamps, subject to state and local approval, in a meeting Wednesday with Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., chairman of the Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, and Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C.

McGovern, who originally urged the administration to send surplus food directly to Beaufort and Jasper counties, said the stamp plan "will be a pilot program that will give us some operating experience" in meeting hunger problems.

"I think this is a healthy way to do it," McGovern told a reporter, adding "I think it was a real breakthrough."

Hollings, who Tuesday said federal red tape was standing in the way of feeding the hungry in his state, also indicate he was satisfied with the quick action.

It was understood the federal government would pick up the cost of the stamps, which usually cost the recipient a small charge.

Testimony before the committee this week indicated a substantial malnutrition problem in South Carolina, complicated by widespread disease including substantial infestation of intestinal worms, especially in Negro children.

Potters Close Regular Season At Weirton Saturday

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

A surprising list of figures, reported by Television Age Magazine, shows that the Pirates get less radio and TV income than any other team in the National League.

This is despite the fact that KDKA-TV will broadcast 38 games, more than any other city in the League except Chicago, New York and Philadelphia. The Phillies, surprisingly, get the most radio-TV income, $1,300,000.

The Indians will televise 48 games, sixth in the AL, and their income of $750,000 is sixth in the AL. The American League has scheduled 591 telecasts to 503 for the National League, with one team in each league not yet set on broadcasts. Chicago would be the paradise for lovers of baseball on TV, as the Cubs show 146 games and the White Sox 135.

This money is strictly from local telecasts, and is not the money that is causing the current dispute between the players and owners. That money comes from the NBC contract to telecast weekly games plus the all-star game and World Series.

JOE MASSEY of East Liverpool scored 28 points Tuesday night as Thiel evened its record at 7-7 with a 82-78 win over John Carroll.

THE AMERICAN Basketball Association has reinforced its status as a bush league when a scorer's error recently cost the Minnesota Pipers a game. Bob Fowler, now the league publicist, was official scorer at Minnesota last season, and admits he had no qualifications for the job, consistently giving statistics to the wrong players.

WASHINGTON sportswriters are enthused over the addition of Vince Lombardi and Ted Williams to the Capitol sports scene. But in 1966 Chicago sportswriters were enthused about the prospect of Leo Durocher and Eddie Stanky as managers of the two Windy City baseball teams, and things worked out badly.

THE FINAL UPI scholastic basketball cage poll ranked East Liverpool 10th. Last year East Liverpool was not in the UPI Top 10, while ranking eighth in the AP listings.

Red Riders Have 11-7 Record

BY TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters hope to close out their second straight 17-1 regular basketball season Saturday night when they travel to Weirton High.

The Red Riders are 11-7 with a game against Follansbee Friday night. Last year the Potters coasted to a 70-52 decision over a crippled Rider team in the M.A.

The Potters have shown they can play offense as well as defense by their 101-point outburst at Martins Ferry Saturday night. Weirton, as is the case with most West Virginia teams, also likes to run, so another high score may be on tap. Potter Coach Clint McConnell would rather preserve the team's 44.4 defensive average than have another high scorer, however.

East Liverpool, 16-1, is expected to field a starting line-up of Jerry Christian, John Johnson, Rick Steffen, Bill Montgomery and Dan Cunningham, with Steve Douglas and Tom Chambers ready to come off the bench. Cunningham will wear his nose-guard for the last time, but is expected to discard it for the playoffs.

Weirton is unbeaten in three meetings with Ohio teams this year. It topped Steubenville 69-67 and 79-66 and downed Steubenville Central 75-64. Other wins came over Oak Glen 58-44 and 67-59, Parkersburg 73-68, Triadelphia 56-51, Wheeling Central 68-59, Follansbee 94-65, Toronto 84-71 and Weirton Madonna 77-69. Losses were to Wheeling 105-71 and 81-76, Wellsburg 84-62, Wheeling Central 73-62, Parkersburg 61-60, Madonna 64-59 and Triadelphia 89-64.

The front line for Norm Bailey's team, all standing about 6-2, is Tom Battista, Nick Greiner and Terry Strong. Ron Smith and Jim DeVecchis form the backcourt. Smith is the top scorer, but the Riders usually feature a balanced attack. Weirton likes to use a 1-3-1 zone defense, though it will also use a 2-1-2 or 2-3 zone.

The best way to get to the Weirton gym is to take West Virginia Route 2 past Waterford Park. At the second traffic light in Weirton turn left up the hill on Route 22. Turn right just before a Loblaw's at the top of the hill, and follow signs to the school. There are a few jogs, but they are marked.

Tournament action tonight finds East Palestine, 8-10, facing Woodrow Wilson, 4-10, in AA action at Youngstown South. Both teams lost to West Branch, the Bulldogs by four and Wilson by five. Joe Lewis, Terry Lipp and Ted Reeves pace Jack Swinderman's Bulldogs.

A tripleheader at Struthers in Class A action sees Lisbon and Lowellville meeting in the opener and Leetonia facing Jackson-Milton in the nightcap. Springfield Local engages Greenford in the middle game. Lisbon is 8-10, Lowellville, the third-seeded team, 13-4. Both teams beat Crestview, their only common foe. Lisbon is led by Jim Courtney at 17.9, Jim Taylor at 12.8 and Lee Smith at 10.6.

Leetonia won its last three games to finish 9-9. Allen Gibson and Ed Casey pace the Bears of Art Kovacs. Jackson-Milton, 11-7, is fourth - seeded. Leetonia nipped J-M 68-67 in double overtime earlier this season.

ROACH RUNS. John Roach (23) of Oak Glen, playing for Bob Starkey's Shepherd State team, guards Bill Kennedy (20) of West Liberty in a State College Tournament game at Charleston yesterday. West Liberty nipped Shepherd 79-77. (UPI Telephoto)

Miami Wins, Increases ABA Lead

By The Associated Press

The Miami Floridians are not exactly pulling away in the bunched Eastern Division race of the American Basketball Association, but they are putting some daylight between them and three challengers.

The Floridians edged 1½ games ahead of idle second place Minnesota with a 119-115 squeaker over Kentucky Wednesday night, dropping the Colonels into fourth place 2½ games back. Idle Indiana moved up to third, two games behind.

In other games New Orleans downed Houston 112-107 and Los Angeles edged Dallas 116-114.

The Floridians had a rough time putting some space between themselves and Kentucky, pulling ahead 114-112 on field goals by Skip Thoren and Don Sidle. A hook by Thoren then put the game out of reach and Don Freeman added two free throws.

Sidle finished with 26 points, Freeman 25. Louie Dampier had 21 for Kentucky.

New Orleans also came from behind late in the game, taking a 101-99 lead on Lee Davis' two three throws with 6:01 left. Steve Jones paced the Bucs with 25 points and James Jones added 24.

Los Angeles overcame a nine-point deficit with slightly more than three minutes to play against Dallas.

Jackson's 27 points topped the Stars, who moved within two games of fourth-place Dallas in the Western Division.

Stanton Nips Shadyside In Tournament Opener

STEUBENVILLE — Stanton rallied in the second half to edge Shadyside 39-36 in the opening of the Class A Sectional Tournament here last night.

Shadyside led 28-19 with three minutes left in the third period. Dave Olesky, who hadn't scored up to this point, put in eight points in three minutes and Stanton narrowed the gap to 29-27 going into the final period. Shadyside scored the first basket, but Stanton then hit 12 points in a row to take a 39-31 lead with only 1:23 left in the game. Shadyside got the last five points to close the gap.

Tim Logan led the Red Raiders of Dave Murray with 15 points and Olesky added 12. Doug Carpenter was high for the losers with 11.

Both teams were cold, as Stanton hit 29 per cent and Shadyside 28 per cent. The Shadeans had a 42-32 rebounding edge as J. R. Caldwell grabbed 14. Danny Smith had 12 and Logan 11 for Stanton.

The Red Raiders continue in tournament play Monday night, meeting the winner of tonight's Mt. Pleasant - Mingo game at 8:30 in the second game of a doubleheader.

In Pension Dispute

Players Reject Offer; Some Report To Camp

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The major league players' boycott shows some signs of cracking, but not enough to keep their representatives from rejecting another pension offer from the club owners.

A number of name players, such as Pat Jarvis, Tom Seaver, Jerry Grote and George Scott, said Wednesday they would report to spring training.

And owner Francis Dale of the Cincinnati Reds says that's just the beginning.

"The real test of the players hasn't come yet," Dale said in Cincinnati. "I can tell you there are a lot of players signed and lot more ready to. We really haven't tested (Marvin) Miller's control of his men."

That brought a response from Miller, the executive director of the Major League Players Association. "This proves it is all a stalling tactic to try to break the Association wide open," Miller said in New York.

Earlier in the day the player representatives had overwhelmingly turned down the latest proposal by the owners to hike the pension $1.2 million to $5.3 million.

The players had rejected a previous $1 million increase by a big margin and Dick Moss, counsel for the Association, said player representatives did not think the new offer significant enough to submit to the membership.

The Association is asking a $6.5 million pension package.

Moss also said a few players were expected to report to spring training, but reaffirmed the Association belief that the great majority of players, including the big stars, would not sign contracts or report until the dispute is settled.

But among those who were signed up today was Jarvis, Atlanta's top pitcher last season with a 16-12 record. Knuckleballer Phil Niekro, another Braves' starter, indicated he might report within the next few days.

However, Braves' slugger Hank Aaron stuck with the boycott.

"It's the principle of the thing," he said. "I can't sign until it is settled. These are the people I play with."

Seaver, an All-Star with the New York Mets last year, said he had not signed and would not report today at St. Petersburg, Fla., but added "I will play this season whether the dispute is settled or not.

"I believe baseball remains one of the few things that reward individual effort in our country and I want it to remain that way. I don't want it to become unionized. I will go so far. I have a date set in my mind (to report) and I'm the only one who knows it."

Grote, the Mets' All-Star catcher, and teammates Nolan Ryan and Danny Frisella, both pitchers, also said they would report.

Scott, Boston's veteran infielder, was quoted in a copyrighted story in the Boston Traveler that he planned to report on scheduled next Wednesday.

John Bateman and Ron Brand, two former Houston catchers now with the expansion Montreal Expos, and teammate Bob Bailey, former Los Angeles infielder, reported Wednesday.

Ken Harrelson, Boston slugger who led the American League in runs batted in last season, earlier announced his intention to report, having signed a contract last summer. And veteran catcher Russ Nixon and veteran pitcher Dan Osinski reported earlier to the Chicago White Sox' camp at Sarasota, Fla.

LaSalle Thumps Duquesne

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Explorers of La Salle aren't going to any post-season tournaments but they'll probably win a championship anyway.

By trouncing eighth-ranked Duquesne 85-71 Wednesday night, the fourth-rated Explorers staked a big claim for the Eastern college basketball crown. But they're under NCAA suspension so their season will end after games against Detroit on Friday and West Chester next Tuesday.

Three other Top Ten teams went in action and all hod to struggle to win. Third-ranked North Carolina squeaked by Maryland 88-86 on Rusty Clark's tap-in with two seconds left, fifth-rated Davidson turned back Duke 88-80 in overtime and No. 7 St. John's came from behind in the final five minutes to beat Syracuse 71-63.

La Salle used its speed to nullify Duquesne's towering front court of Barry and Garry Nelson and Gary Majors, all of whom stand 6-foot-9. And Roland Taylor disrupted the Dukes' attack by hounding Bill Zopf, who directs it.

North Carolina's victory over upstart Maryland moved the Tar Heels back into undisputed possession of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, breaking a tie with 12th-ranked South Carolina, which defeated Furman 63-53 in a non-league game.

Maryland raced to a 28-8 lead during the first 13 minutes and the Tar Heels couldn't catch up until Charlie Scott put them ahead 57-56 more than five minutes into the second half. The teams then battled through six ties and as many lead changes before Clark's dramatic game-winner.

Davidson had to make up five points in the final 1:25 to send its game with Duke into overtime.

A 20-foot jump shot by Dick DeVenzio, who scored 28 points, had given Duke an 80-79 lead with seven seconds left in regulation time. But Mike Maloy's free throw knotted the score and Davidson outscored the Blue Devils 8-0 in the overtime period.

St. John's went on a 15-5 tear in the final five minutes to hold off stubborn Syracuse and the Orangemen's 6-11 center, Bill Smith, who had 24 points and 15 rebounds. John Warren paced the Redmen with 20.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati reeled off 22 straight points over an eight-minute stretch of the first half and smothered Dayton 96-60. Larry Lewis had 24 points and 21 rebounds to lead St. Francis of Pennsylvania to a 77-66 triumph over Canisius.

DePaul held 6-11 Bob Lanier to 14 points and nipped St. Bonaventure 72-71 when Al Zetzche sank two free throws with 16 seconds left in overtime.

Frank Lukacs and Ray Loucks keyed a late 14-3 surge that gave Miami of Ohio a 68-62 victory over Western Michigan and clinched at least a share of the Mid-America Conference title for the Redskins.

Miami Edges Broncos, Clinches MAC Cage Tie

By The Associated Press

Miami—apparently sparked by a halftime pep talk—clinched at least a share of the Mid-American Conference basketball championship by defeating Western Michigan 68-62 Wednesday night.

Coach Tates Locke said he told his boys during the intermission to loosen up and "just throw the ball into the hole."

Locke said his team was tight during the first half from title pressure that "started last week at Ohio U." when the second-place Bobcats upended Miami

Little Mike Wren, the Redskins' 5-foot-8 sophomore guard, agreed his teammates were tight and said strategy also slowed them down a bit.

"We put something new in this week (to battle the zone) and we wanted to make sure we were set up," he said. "We were reluctant to shoot."

Miami trailed much of the first half and managed a 30-30 haltime tie on Ray Loucks' tip-in with 30 seconds left.

The lead seesawed until midway through the second period when Frank Lukacs, who topped the Redskins with 18 points, put Miami ahead for good 50-49 on a jump shot. Miami then reeled off 12 more points to the Broncos' three during the next five minutes of play.

Western Michigan's Gene Ford had a game-high 20 points.

The victory gave Miami a 9-2 MAC record with only one game left to play. Challenging Ohio University, now 7-3, has two games left.

In another MAC contest, last-place Marshall edged Toledo, 83-82. Toledo, preseason favorite to win the MAC title, now is 4-6 and in fifth place.

Marshall won the game on a 20-foot jump shot by Dan D'Antoni with 12 seconds left to play. The shot came after the Thundering Herd stalled for nearly a minute to set it up. D'Antoni led scorers with 33 points. Steve Mix was tops for Toledo with 24.

Cincinnati humiliated Dayton 96 - 60 in the Bearcats' 13th straight victory over the Flyers. Cincinnati erupted for 22 straight points early in the game and had a 34-9 lead midway through the first period. Dan Ogletree paced the Bearcats with 20 points; Dan Sadlier led the Flyers with 16.

The Mid - Ohio Conference standing tightened up as Bluffton knocked Defiance off its lonely perch in first place by defeating the Yellow Jackets 78-74. The loss dropped Defiance into a lead tie with Cedarville with 7 - 3 marks. Bluffton is in second place at 6-3. Bluffton's Denny Langhals was the game's leading scorer with 31 points. Fred Wierwille was high for Defiance with 28.

In other games, Central State clobbered Findlay 61 - 39 and Walsh downed Urbana 79-66.

Potters Close Regular Season At Weirton Saturday

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE

A surprising list of figures, reported by Television Age Magazine, shows that the Pirates get less radio and TV income than any other team in the National League.

This is despite the fact that KDKA-TV will broadcast 38 games, more than any other city in the League except Chicago, New York and Philadelphia. The Phillies, surprisingly, get the most radio-TV income, $1,300,000.

The Indians will televise 48 games, sixth in the AL, and their income of $750,000 is sixth in the AL. The American League has scheduled 591 telecasts to 503 for the National League, with one team in each league not yet set on broadcasts. Chicago would be the paradise for lovers of baseball on TV, as the Cubs show 146 games and the White Sox 135.

This money is strictly from local telecasts, and is not the money that is causing the current dispute between the players and owners. That money comes from the NBC contract to telecast weekly games plus the all-star game and World Series.

JOE MASSEY of East Liverpool scored 28 points Tuesday night as Thiel evened its record at 7-7 with a 82-78 win over John Carroll.

THE AMERICAN Basketball Association has reinforced its status as a bush league when a scorer's error recently cost the Minnesota Pipers a game. Bob Fowler, now the league publicist, was official scorer at Minnesota last season, and admits he had no qualifications for the job, consistently giving statistics to the wrong players.

WASHINGTON sportswriters are enthused over the addition of Vince Lombardi and Ted Williams to the Capitol sports scene. But in 1966 Chicago sportswriters were enthused about the prospect of Leo Durocher and Eddie Stanky as managers of the two Windy City baseball teams, and things worked out badly.

THE FINAL UPI scholastic basketball cage poll ranked East Liverpool 10th. Last year East Liverpool was not in the UPI Top 10, while ranking eighth in the AP listings.

Red Riders Have 11-7 Record

BY TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters hope to close out their second straight 17-1 regular basketball season Saturday night when they travel to Weirton High.

The Red Riders are 11-7 with a game against Follansbee Friday night. Last year the Potters coasted to a 70-52 decision over a crippled Rider team in the M.A.

The Potters have shown they can play offense as well as defense by their 101-point outburst at Martins Ferry Saturday night. Weirton, as is the case with most West Virginia teams, also likes to run, so another high score may be on tap. Potter Coach Clint McConnell would rather preserve the team's 44.4 defensive average than have another high scorer, however.

East Liverpool, 16-1, is expected to field a starting line-up of Jerry Christian, John Johnson, Rick Steffen, Bill Montgomery and Dan Cunningham, with Steve Douglas and Tom Chambers ready to come off the bench. Cunningham will wear his nose-guard for the last time, but is expected to discard it for the playoffs.

Weirton is unbeaten in three meetings with Ohio teams this year. It topped Steubenville 69-67 and 79-66 and downed Steubenville Central 75-64. Other wins came over Oak Glen 58-44 and 67-59, Parkersburg 73-68, Triadelphia 56-51, Wheeling Central 68-59, Follansbee 94-65, Toronto 84-71 and Weirton Madonna 77-69. Losses were to Wheeling 105-71 and 81-76, Wellsburg 84-62, Wheeling Central 73-62, Parkersburg 61-60, Madonna 64-59 and Triadelphia 89-64.

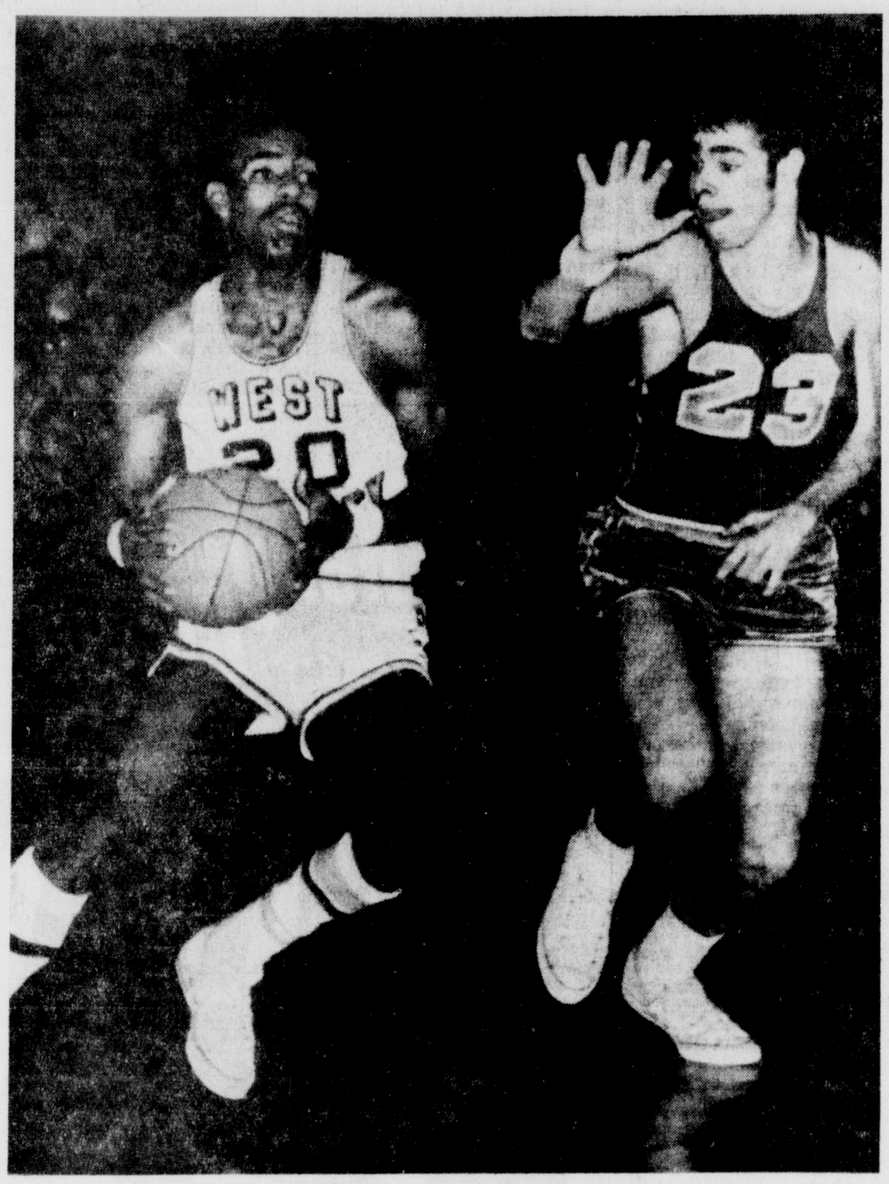
The front line for Norm Bailey's team, all standing about 6-2, is Tom Battista, Nick Greiner and Terry Strong. Ron Smith and Jim DeVecchis form the backcourt. Smith is the top scorer, but the Riders usually feature a balanced attack. Weirton likes to use a 1-3-1 zone defense, though it will also use a 2-1-2 or 2-3 zone.

The best way to get to the Weirton gym is to take West Virginia Route 2 past Waterford Park. At the second traffic light in Weirton turn left up the hill on Route 22. Turn right just before a Loblaw's at the top of the hill, and follow signs to the school. There are a few jogs, but they are marked.

Tournament action tonight finds East Palestine, 8-10, facing Woodrow Wilson, 4-10, in AA action at Youngstown South. Both teams lost to West Branch, the Bulldogs by four and Wilson by five. Joe Lewis, Terry Lipp and Ted Reeves pace Jack Swinderman's Bulldogs.

A tripleheader at Struthers in Class A action sees Lisbon and Lowellville meeting in the opener and Leetonia facing Jackson-Milton in the nightcap. Springfield Local engages Greenford in the middle game. Lisbon is 8-10, Lowellville, the third-seeded team, 13-4. Both teams beat Crestview, their only common foe. Lisbon is led by Jim Courtney at 17.9, Jim Taylor at 12.8 and Lee Smith at 10.6.

Leetonia won its last three games to finish 9-9. Allen Gibson and Ed Casey pace the Bears of Art Kovacs. Jackson-Milton, 11-7, is fourth-seeded. Leetonia nipped J-M 68-67 in double overtime earlier this season.



ROACH RUNS. John Roach (23) of Oak Glen, playing for Bob Starkey's Shepherd State team, guards Bill Kennedy (20) of West Liberty in a State College Tournament game at Charleston yesterday. West Liberty nipped Shepherd 79-77. (UPI Telephoto)

Miami Wins, Increases ABA Lead

By The Associated Press

The Miami Floridians are not exactly pulling away in the bunched Eastern Division race of the American Basketball Association, but they are putting some daylight between them and three challengers.

The Floridians edged 1½ games ahead of idle second place Minnesota with a 119-115 squeaker over Kentucky Wednesday night, dropping the Colonels into fourth place 2½ games back. Idle Indiana moved up to third, two games behind.

In other games New Orleans downed Houston 112-107 and Los Angeles edged Dallas 116-114.

The Floridians had a rough time putting some space between themselves and Kentucky, pulling ahead 114-112 on field goals by Skip Thoren and Don Sidle. A hook by Thoren then put the game out of reach and Don Freeman added two free throws.

Sidle finished with 26 points, Freeman 25. Louie Dampier had 21 for Kentucky.

New Orleans also came from behind late in the game, taking a 101-99 lead on Lee Davis' two three throws with 6:01 left. Steve Jones paced the Bucs with 25 points and James Jones added 24.

Los Angeles overcame a nine-point deficit with slightly more than three minutes to play against Dallas.

Jackson's 27 points topped the Stars, who moved within two games of fourth-place Dallas in the Western Division.

Olesky Leads Rally

Stanton Nips Shadyside In Tournament Opener

STEUBENVILLE — Stanton rallied in the second half to edge Shadyside 39-36 in the opening of the Class A Sectional Tournament here last night.

Shadyside led 28-19 with three minutes left in the third period. Dave Olesky, who hadn't scored up to this point, put in eight points in three minutes and Stanton narrowed the gap to 29-27 going into the final period. Shadyside scored the first basket, but Stanton then hit 12 points in a row to take a 39-31 lead with only 1:23 left in the game. Shadyside got the last five points to close the gap.

Tim Logan led the Red Raiders of Dave Murray with 15 points and Olesky added 12. Doug Carpenter was high for the losers with 11.

Both teams were cold, as Stanton hit 29 per cent and Shadyside 28 per cent. The Shadeans had a 42-32 rebounding edge as J. R. Caldwell grabbed 14. Danny Smith had 12 and Logan 11 for Stanton.

The Red Raiders continue in tournament play Monday night, meeting the winner of tonight's Mt. Pleasant - Mingo game at 8:30 in the second game of a doubleheader.

In Pension Dispute

Players Reject Offer; Some Report To Camp

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The major league players' boycott shows some signs of cracking, but not enough to keep their representatives from rejecting another pension offer from the club owners.

A number of name players, such as Pat Jarvis, Tom Seaver, Jerry Grote and George Scott, said Wednesday they would report to spring training.

And owner Francis Dale of the Cincinnati Reds says that's just the beginning.

"The real test of the players hasn't come yet," Dale said in Cincinnati. "I can tell you there are a lot of players signed and lot more ready to. We really haven't tested (Marvin) Miller's control of his men."

That brought a response from Miller, the executive director of the Major League Players Association. "This proves it is all a stalling tactic to try to break the Association wide open," Miller said in New York.

Earlier in the day the player representatives had overwhelmingly turned down the latest proposal by the owners to hike the pension $1.2 million to $5.3 million.

The players had rejected a previous $1 million increase by a big margin and Dick Moss, counsel for the Association, said player representatives did not think the new offer significant enough to submit to the membership.

The Association is asking a $6.5 million pension package.

Moss also said a few players were expected to report to spring training, but reaffirmed the Association belief that the great majority of players, including the big stars, would not sign contracts or report until the dispute is settled.

But among those who were signed up today was Jarvis, Atlanta's top pitcher last season with a 16-12 record. Knuckleballer Phil Niekro, another Braves' starter, indicated he might report within the next few days.

However, Braves' slugger Hank Aaron stuck with the boycott.

"It's the principle of the thing," he said. "I can't sign until it is settled. These are the people I play with."

Seaver, an All-Star with the New York Mets last year, said he had not signed and would not report today at St. Petersburg, Fla., but added "I will play this season whether the dispute is settled or not.

"I believe baseball remains one of the few things that reward individual effort in our country and I want it to remain that way. I don't want it to become unionized. I will go so far. I have a date set in my mind (to report) and I'm the only one who knows it."

Grote, the Mets' All-Star catcher, and teammates Nolan Ryan and Danny Frisella, both pitchers, also said they would report.

Scott, Boston's veteran infielder, was quoted in a copyrighted story in the Boston Traveler that he planned to report on scheduled next Wednesday.

John Bateman and Ron Brand, two former Houston catchers now with the expansion Montreal Expos, and teammate Bob Bailey, former Los Angeles infielder, reported Wednesday.

Ken Harrelson, Boston slugger who led the American League in runs batted in last season, earlier announced his intention to report, having signed a contract last summer. And veteran catcher Russ Nixon and veteran pitcher Dan Osinski reported earlier to the Chicago White Sox' camp at Sarasota, Fla.

LaSalle Thumps Duquesne

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Explorers of La Salle aren't going to any post-season tournaments but they'll probably win a championship anyway.

By trouncing eighth-ranked Duquesne 85-71 Wednesday night, the fourth-rated Explorers staked a big claim for the Eastern college basketball crown. But they're under NCAA suspension so their season will end after games against Detroit on Friday and West Chester next Tuesday.

Three other Top Ten teams went in action and all had to struggle to win. Third-ranked North Carolina squeaked by Maryland 88-86 on Rusty Clark's tap-in with two seconds left, fifth-rated Davidson turned back Duke 88-80 in overtime and No. 7 St. John's came from behind in the final five minutes to beat Syracuse 71-63.

La Salle used its speed to nullify Duquesne's towering front court of Barry and Garry Nelson and Gary Majors, all of whom stand 6-foot-9. And Roland Taylor disrupted the Dukes' attack by hounding Bill Zopf, who directs it.

North Carolina's victory over upstart Maryland moved the Tar Heels back into undisputed possession of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, breaking a tie with 12th-ranked South Carolina, which defeated Furman 63-53 in a non-league game.

Maryland raced to a 28-8 lead during the first 13 minutes and the Tar Heels couldn't catch up until Charlie Scott put them ahead 57-56 more than five minutes into the second half. The teams then battled through six ties and as many lead changes before Clark's dramatic game-winner.

Davidson had to make up five points in the final 1:25 to send its game with Duke into overtime.

A 20-foot jump shot by Dick DeVenzio, who scored 28 points, had given Duke an 80-79 lead with seven seconds left in regulation time. But Mike Maloy's free throw knotted the score and Davidson outscored the Blue Devils 8-0 in the overtime period.

St. John's went on a 15-5 tear in the final five minutes to hold off stubborn Syracuse and the Orangemen's 6-11 center, Bill Smith, who had 24 points and 15 rebounds. John Warren paced the Redmen with 20.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati reeled off 22 straight points over an eight-minute stretch of the first half and smothered Dayton 96-60. Larry Lewis had 24 points and 21 rebounds to lead St. Francis of Pennsylvania to a 77-66 triumph over Canisius.

DePaul held 6-11 Bob Lanier to 14 points and nipped St. Bonaventure 72-71 when Al Zetzche sank two free throws with 16 seconds left in overtime.

Frank Lukacs and Ray Loucks keyed a late 14-3 surge that gave Miami of Ohio a 68-62 victory over Western Michigan and clinched at least a share of the Mid-America Conference title for the Redskins.

Miami Edges Broncos, Clinches MAC Cage Tie

By The Associated Press

Miami—apparently sparked by a halftime pep talk—clinched at least a share of the Mid-American Conference basketball championship by defeating Western Michigan 68-62 Wednesday night.

Coach Tates Locke said he told his boys during the intermission to loosen up and "just throw the ball into the hole."

Locke said his team was tight during the first half from title pressure that "started last week at Ohio U." when the second-place Bobcats upended Miami

Little Mike Wren, the Redskins' 5-foot-8 sophomore guard, agreed his teammates were tight and said strategy also slowed them down a bit.

"We put something new in this week (to battle the zone) and we wanted to make sure we were set up," he said. "We were reluctant to shoot."

Miami trailed much of the first half and managed a 30-30 haltime tie on Ray Loucks' tip-in with 30 seconds left.

The lead seesawed until midway through the second period when Frank Lukacs, who topped the Redskins with 18 points, put Miami ahead for good 50-49 on a jump shot. Miami then reeled off 12 more points to the Broncos' three during the next five minutes of play.

Western Michigan's Gene Ford had a game-high 20 points.

The victory gave Miami a 9-2 MAC record with only one game left to play. Challenging Ohio University, now 7-3, has two games left.

In another MAC contest, last-place Marshall edged Toledo, 83-82. Toledo, preseason favorite to win the MAC title, now is 4-6 and in fifth place.

Marshall won the game on a 20-foot jump shot by Dan D'Antoni with 12 seconds left to play. The shot came after the Thundering Herd stalled for nearly a minute to set it up. D'Antoni led scorers with 33 points. Steve Mix was tops for Toledo with 24.

Cincinnati humiliated Dayton 96 - 60 in the Bearcats' 13th straight victory over the Flyers. Cincinnati erupted for 22 straight points early in the game and had a 34-9 lead midway through the first period. Dan Ogletree paced the Bearcats with 20 points; Dan Sadlier led the Flyers with 16.

The Mid - Ohio Conference standing tightened up as Bluffton knocked Defiance off its lonely perch in first place by defeating the Yellow Jackets 78-74. The loss dropped Defiance into a lead tie with Cedarville with 7 - 3 marks. Bluffton is in second place at 6-3. Bluffton's Denny Langhals was the game's leading scorer with 31 points. Fred Wierwille was high for Defiance with 28.

In other games, Central State clobbered Findlay 61 - 39 and Walsh downed Urbana 79-66.

St. Louis Clinches Playoffs

Penguins Upset Boston; Toronto Upends Montreal

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Hockey League's battle for playoff spot is tight just about everywhere except in St. Louis, where the happy-go-lucky Blues serenely roll towards the West Division pennant.

The Blues assured themselves of the inevitable playoff spot Wednesday night, beating Philadelphia 3-1 and maintaining their West lead at 25 points over Oakland, which beat Chicago 5-2.

In other NHL action, Montreal and Boston both lost and remained tied for the East Division lead. The Bruins were blanked by Pittsburgh 3-0 for their third straight loss and Montreal's seven-game unbeaten string was ended by Toronto, 5-1.

Detroit and New York tied at 1-1, leaving the third-place Rangers a slim one point ahead of the Red Wings, and Minnesota ripped Los Angeles 7-4 and climbed within two points of fourth-place Philadelphia in the West.

Ab McDonald scored two goals and assisted on another by Jim Roberts, leading the Blues past Philadelphia. The victory was the fifth straight for the rampaging Blues, who have been in complete command of the West Division race all season long.

Pittsburgh stunned slumping Boston with rookie goalie Joe Daley kicking out 41 shots for the Penguins, and Lou Angotti tallied the other goal. Boston played without injured defenseman Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, who is sitting out a two-game suspension for an altercation with referee Bob Sloan.

Ed Joyal scored three goals for Los Angeles but it wasn't nough to stop Minnesota. The North Stars bunched four first-eriod goals after Joyal had giv-n LA a quick, short lead. Bill Goldsworthy scored twice for Minnesota.

Toronto, holding four games n hand on both Detroit and New York, put pressure on the Red Wings and Rangers by knocking off Montreal. The victory left the Maple Leafs only two points back of fourth-place Detroit and three behind third place New York.

Toronto's Dave Keon scored a goal while killing a penalty and triggered a three-goal second period flurry for the Maple Leafs. Montreal goalie Gump Worsley had to leave the game when he was knocked unconscious in a goal-mouth collision with teammate Jacques Laperriere and Toronto's Bob Pulford in the first period. All five Maple Leaf goals came against his replacement, Rogatien Vachon.

New York's Phil Goyette and Dean Prentice of Detroit scored second-period goals two minutes apart as the Rangers and Red Wings battled to the tie. Goalies Roy Edwards of Detroit, who had 32 saves, and Ed Giacomin of New York, who had 24 stops, dominated play both before and after the two goals.

Brian Perry produced the three-goal hat trick and Norm Ferguson collected two goals in accounting for all of Oakland's scoring in the victory over Chicago. The triumph was the Seals' fourth in five meetings with the Black Hawks this season.

Bullets Down Lakers, Widen NBA Lead

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers won the war of words but the Baltimore Bullets took the battle of baskets.

The amazing Bullets survived a tongue-lashing from mountainous Wilt Chamberlain Wednesday night and shot down the Lakers 110-88. That increased their lead in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division to four games over New York and 4½ over Philadelphia, both of which lost.

The Knicks dropped a 110-100 decision to Cincinnati while San Francisco blasted the 76ers 134-117. In the only other NBA game, Deroit downed Seattle 131-124.

Chamberlain got his dander up when he thought a foul should have been called on Baltimore center Westley Unseld. He chewed Unseld out, but the big rookie never changed his expression and went on to outrebound Wilt 22-21.

The Knicks, who had their 11-game winning streak snapped by Los Angeles Tuesday night, dropped two straight for the first time since Nov. 19-20. The 10-point setback was their biggest since Dec. 15. They had won 28 of 32 games before Tuesday and the four losses were by a total of nine points.

The Royals, who, like the Lakers, have taken four of five from the Knicks, raced to a 63-49 halftime lead. New York got within four points late in the game but Connie Dierking hit two clutch baskets.

Dave Bing scored 19 of his 30 points in the second half to spark the Pistons past Seattle.

AFL-NFL Exhibitions On Increase

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pending a final decision on the shape of the merged pro football leagues in 1970 at the annual meetings in March, it is apparent that the trend is toward more interleague exhibition games for 1969. Regular season interleague games are expected to start in 1970.

The San Diego Chargers recently announced their pre-season schedule of five games, only one of which will be played against another American Football League team. The Chargers will play four National Football League teams, all at home. The NFL foes will be Baltimore, Aug. 2, New Orleans, Aug. 9, Cleveland, Aug. 23 and Los Angeles, Aug. 30. The lone AFL team will be Oakland, Aug. 16.

Chuck Noll's departure from Baltimore to take the head coaching job with the Pittsburgh Steelers opened he way for Bobby Boyd to step out of the active ranks and onto the coaching staff with the Cotls.

Boyd, the balding partner of John Unitas in a Baltimore restaurant, has been an all-league cornerback several times.

Frank Gifford, for one, does not think Sam Huff at 34 is too old to make a comeback at middle linebacker with the Washington Redskins.

"Vince Costello was as old as Sam when he joined the Giants," said the former Giant star and now a television personality. "And Vince had one of his best years with us. Harland Svare's 4-3 defense is perfect for Huff."

Ashland Top Small College In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Ashland (Ohio) College found a perfect way to celebrate its rise to No. 1 ranking among the nation's small college basketball team. The Eagles accepted a bid to the NCAA Mideast Regional College Division Tournament.

Ashland, which replaced Lamar Tech at the top of The Associated Press' weekly poll Wednesday, agreed to host the Mideast regional March 7-8.

Joining Ashland in the tournament was Cheney (Pa.) State, No. 16, the team Ashland beat in the first round last year.

Ashland, the top defensive team in the country with a 20-1 record through last Saturday, received five first place votes and 289 points from a 21-man national panel.

Lamar, 17-2, fell to fourth after losing to Trinity, Tex., 83-69. Fairmont, W.Va., 21-1, climbed from fourth to second with two top votes and 244 points. Kentucky Wesleyan, which won the NCAA tournament last year, remained third with 206 points.

Trinity moved from sixth to fifth followed by Southwestern, La.; Stephen F. Austin, Howard Payne, South Dakota State and South Carolina State.

Howard Payne rocketed from 14th to eighth and South Carolina State sprung from 19th to 10th as the new teams in the Top Ten. They replaced Long Beach State, which fell from eighth to 11th, and U. of Nevada-Las Vegas, which plummeted from 10th to 17th.

St. Louis Clinches Playoffs

Penguins Upset Boston; Toronto Upends Montreal

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Hockey League's battle for playoff spot is tight just about everywhere except in St. Louis, where the happy-go-lucky Blues serenely roll towards the West Division pennant.

The Blues assured themselves of the inevitable playoff spot Wednesday night, beating Philadelphia 3-1 and maintaining their West lead at 25 points over Oakland, which beat Chicago 5-2.

In other NHL action, Montreal and Boston both lost and remained tied for the East Division lead. The Bruins were blanked by Pittsburgh 3-0 for their third straight loss and Montreal's seven-game unbeaten string was ended by Toronto, 5-1.

Detroit and New York tied at 1-1, leaving the third-place Rangers a slim one point ahead of the Red Wings, and Minnesota ripped Los Angeles 7-4 and climbed within two points of fourth-place Philadelphia in the West.

Ab McDonald scored two goals and assisted on another by Jim Roberts, leading the Blues past Philadelphia. The victory was the fifth straight for the rampaging Blues, who have been in complete command of the West Division race all season long.

Pittsburgh stunned slumping Boston with rookie goalie Joe Daley kicking out 41 shots for the Penguins, and Lou Angotti tallied the other goal. Boston played without injured defenseman Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, who is sitting out a two-game suspension for an altercation with referee Bob Sloan.

Ed Joyal scored three goals for Los Angeles but it wasn't enough to stop Minnesota. The North Stars bunched four first-period goals after Joyal had given LA a quick, short lead. Bill Goldsworthy scored twice for Minnesota.

Toronto, holding four games in hand on both Detroit and New York, put pressure on the Red Wings and Rangers by knocking off Montreal. The victory left the Maple Leafs only two points back of fourth-place Detroit and three behind third place New York.

Toronto's Dave Keon scored a goal while killing a penalty and triggered a three-goal second period flurry for the Maple Leafs. Montreal goalie Gump Worsley had to leave the game when he was knocked unconscious in a goal-mouth collision with teammate Jacques Laperriere and Toronto's Bob Pulford in the first period. All five Maple Leaf goals came against his replacement, Rogatien Vachon.

New York's Phil Goyette and Dean Prentice of Detroit scored second-period goals two minutes apart as the Rangers and Red Wings battled to the tie. Goalies Roy Edwards of Detroit, who had 32 saves, and Ed Giacomin of New York, who had 24 stops, dominated play both before and after the two goals.

Brian Perry produced the three-goal hat trick and Norm Ferguson collected two goals in accounting for all of Oakland's scoring in the victory over Chicago. The triumph was the Seals' fourth in five meetings with the Black Hawks this season.

Bullets Down Lakers, Widen NBA Lead

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers won the war of words but the Baltimore Bullets took the battle of baskets.

The amazing Bullets survived a tongue-lashing from mountainous Wilt Chamberlain Wednesday night and shot down the Lakers 110-88. That increased their lead in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division to four games over New York and 4½ over Philadelphia, both of which lost.

The Knicks dropped a 110-100 decision to Cincinnati while San Francisco blasted the 76ers 134-117. In the only other NBA game, Deroit downed Seattle 131-124.

Chamberlain got his dander up when he thought a foul should have been called on Baltimore center Westley Unseld. He chewed Unseld out, but the big rookie never changed his expression and went on to outrebound Wilt 22-21.

The Knicks, who had their 11-game winning streak snapped by Los Angeles Tuesday night, dropped two straight for the first time since Nov. 19-20. The 10-point setback was their biggest since Dec. 15. They had won 28 of 32 games before Tuesday and the four losses were by a total of nine points.

The Royals, who, like the Lakers, have taken four of five from the Knicks, raced to a 63-49 halftime lead. New York got within four points late in the game but Connie Dierking hit two clutch baskets.

Dave Bing scored 19 of his 30 points in the second half to spark the Pistons past Seattle.

AFL-NFL Exhibitions On Increase

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pending a final decision on the shape of the merged pro football leagues in 1970 at the annual meetings in March, it is apparent that the trend is toward more interleague exhibition games for 1969. Regular season interleague games are expected to start in 1970.

The San Diego Chargers recently announced their pre-season schedule of five games, only one of which will be played against another American Football League team. The Chargers will play four National Football League teams, all at home. The NFL foes will be Baltimore, Aug. 2, New Orleans, Aug. 9, Cleveland, Aug. 23 and Los Angeles, Aug. 30. The lone AFL team will be Oakland, Aug. 16.

Chuck Noll's departure from Baltimore to take the head coaching job with the Pittsburgh Steelers opened he way for Bobby Boyd to step out of the active ranks and onto the coaching staff with the Cotls.

Boyd, the balding partner of John Unitas in a Baltimore restaurant, has been an all-league cornerback several times.

Frank Gifford, for one, does not think Sam Huff at 34 is too old to make a comeback at middle linebacker with the Washington Redskins.

"Vince Costello was as old as Sam when he joined the Giants," said the former Giant star and now a television personality. "And Vince had one of his best years with us. Harland Svare's 4-3 defense is perfect for Huff."

Ashland Top Small College In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Ashland (Ohio) College found a perfect way to celebrate its rise to No. 1 ranking among the nation's small college basketball team. The Eagles accepted a bid to the NCAA Mideast Regional College Division Tournament.

Ashland, which replaced Lamar Tech at the top of The Associated Press' weekly poll Wednesday, agreed to host the Mideast regional March 7-8.

Joining Ashland in the tournament was Cheney (Pa.) State, No. 16, the team Ashland beat in the first round last year.

Ashland, the top defensive team in the country with a 20-1 record through last Saturday, received five first place votes and 289 points from a 21-man national panel.

Lamar, 17-2, fell to fourth after losing to Trinity, Tex., 83-69. Fairmont, W.Va., 21-1, climbed from fourth to second with two top votes and 244 points. Kentucky Wesleyan, which won the NCAA tournament last year, remained third with 206 points.

Trinity moved from sixth to fifth followed by Southwestern, La.; Stephen F. Austin, Howard Payne, South Dakota State and South Carolina State.

Howard Payne rocketed from 14th to eighth and South Carolina State sprung from 19th to 10th as the new teams in the Top Ten. They replaced Long Beach State, which fell from eighth to 11th, and U. of Nevada-Las Vegas, which plummeted from 10th to 17th.

feel, I will be given the right to vote. If not soon, I will be voting in future elections and I surely wouldn't want the courts to deny me that right and select my representatives. I certainly wouldn't want my vote cast aside through absolutely no fault of my own. This injustice must be settled for the sake of this electon, for the sake of future elections, for the sake of the voice of the people and for the sake of 'simple justice.'

"Let me make it clearly known that I am not giving this speech to support either of the canddaties or as an attempt to secure the election of the parties concerned. Moreover, I am questioning the right of 'simple justice' and am asking for an attempt for fair play on the part of the state and county officials. It is evident that fair play has been disregarded.

"For example, why is a sheriff who received less votes than the other candidate now functioning in that office by the acts of the state Supreme Court and county officials. I could understand this if the ballots were illegal, but they were legal as far as I am concerned, because they were honestly cast. The voice of the people is being questioned and how could the actions of four women give any person, any official, the right to cast out the choice of the people? This certainly does infer questions in my mind. Still, there are other questions which deserve answers.

"Why should Mr. Smoleski be denied his right to protest? Isn't it the privilege of the voter to hear both sides? It is only by hearing both sides that an official can make the right decision, a fair decision. That is how all disputes should be settled, by hearing the conflicting views and prove the right one.

"What about the meeting. The secret meeting. The one held by the county court to examine ballots. Why not discuss this meeting?

"Also, what has happened to our county officials? Since when is their authority 'overridden' by mere words. Do they realize the extent of their authority? Do they know that legal advice also can be misconstrued or incorrect? Can legal councils deny the authority of the county officials — officials elected by the voice of the people. Such as in the case of Mr. Konchar.

"In addition there is the question of technicalities. Will all future elections be decided on incidents which are common in all precincts in all elections? The voice of the people is again being questioned and this should not be."

—:—

COMMISSIONER Edward M. Nogay rose after Miss Porter spoke to protest portions of her speech.

He declared the commissioners have been accused by innuendo of wrongdoing. Raising his voice, he declared that no notification was given of the Jan. 3 meetng because the findings there were to be used as evidence in the case presented to the state Supreme Court.

"Anyone who says a recount took place is guilty of false statements."

"Are you being used as some unwitting tool?" he asked the audience.

"We have vague accusations," Nogay continued. "All I've heard tonight so far is 'disregard the law' ".

"Mr. Patrick was not certified by the commissioners," he said. "The Supreme Court issued a ruling. These are not mere words," he argued.

"I believe what I've done is right," Nogay continued. "I realize some of you were my friends unti Feb. 10, but now you're not."

The mood of the crowd was summed up by Miss Porter, chairman of the voters' committee, when she emphasized, "We don't want this to happen again."

Miss Porter then delivered what she termed an ultimatum to the commissioners and said it is backed by nearly 400 signatures from Precinct 32—a demand that the commissioners and the West Virginia Supreme Court reinstate the votes that were disqualified.

MISS PORTER told commissioners: "The county court owes it to every voter; it is their duty as an elected official to advocate, to restore every vote to Precinct 32; they must see that every citizen's vote is counted. Therefore, we request the county commissioners, the county prosecutor and the attorney general to appear before the Supreme Court before the 30-day period and make their plea to defend the constitutional rights of the citizens of Precinct 32 and of the entire county, that is, their constitutional right to vote, to have their honestly cast votes counted. In short, petition the state Supreme Court to reverse their decision.

"This leaves us with no other alternative but to petition the Supreme Court as the Committee on Voters Rights and citizens of the county with our own legal adviser in an attempt to have the state Supreme Court reverse their decision."

Nogay expressed displeasure that the committee was delivering an ultimatum to commissioners.

"I'll be damned if I'll vote for something I believe wrong," he said.

"No one on the court disagrees one iota that these people don't have a right to vote," he continued.

Then Pietranton rose to ask the court to set a date for Smoleski to contest the latest resuls. Commissioner Joseph Manypenny made the motion to set the time.

Pietranton pointed out that if anyone is to blame for the present circumstances, "it rests with the party chairmen of both parties."

Zagula explained the selection of pollworkers, saying that the party chairmen submit a list, and many times are just glad to obtain enough names to fill the list. The names are turned over to the county clerk, who mails postcards asking the people to serve.

Zagula noted that the pollworkers "are paid a pittance" for a job that last nearly two days.

Shortly before 10, the commissioners voted to adjourn the meeting until Friday when the battle to decide the sheriff's race will begin anew.

Bettis Schedules Mayors' Session On Police Funds

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis has called a countywide mayors' meeting this afternoon at 3 in the commissioners' office at the Courthouse to discuss formation of a Columbiana County organization for administration of federal funds under the "safe streets act" of 1968.

Mayor George E. Willshaw will represent East Liverpool at the session. Bettis said in a letter he is temporary chairman of the group which will form a so-called "council of governments" that will administer the money. He asked all interested mayors to attend.

Bettis said today's session is an outgrowth of a meeting last Friday at Canton that brought together 50 public officials from Stark and Columbiana Counties. At the time, the officials of the two counties decided to form separate "councils of government" to administer the funds.

The funds are administered statewide by the Ohio Urban Affairs Department. Stark and Columbiana Counties comprise District 8 of the organization set up to handle the federal grants.

2 Autos Damaged As Truck Breaks Loose From Tow

WASHINGTONVILLE—A disabled tractor - trailer rig broke loose from a tow truck Wednesday afternoon and drifted into two parked autos, a retaining wall and the steps of a bowling alley.

Washingtonville police said no one was injured in the mishap which occurred at 5 p. m. at the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad crossing.

Tyrone Parkinson, 28, of Pittsburgh, driver of the tow truck, was arrested for driving with an insceure load, and was due for a hearing today before Mayor Frank Davidson.

Officers said the disabled Standard Freight Co. truck broke loose when the tow cable snapped as the rig went over the crossing. It grazed the fender of a car owned by William Taucher of Lyons Ave., East Palestine, then struck a 1965 sedan owned by Earl Black of Negley, demolishing it. The rig came to a halt against the steps, with about $900 damage.

Hays Promises Data On Inspection Of Run

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, told Mayor George E. Willshaw in a letter today that he will advise the city government as soon as he receives data from the U.S. Corps of Engineers on an inspection made Feb. 10 along the East End Run in answer to the city's request for improving the stream bed as a "flood control project."

The inspection, made by Paul Stolz of the Pittsburgh District engineers office, was arranged through the congressman at the request of the mayor. Willshaw then wrote Hays advising that the inspection had been made and the congressman replied that he will supply the mayor with further data when it is available.

Stolz indicated after his Feb. 10 inspection that he would recommend further preliminary studies to pass on the feasibility of the project. There was no indication whether the survey looked toward enclosing the run or deepening the bed to prevent overflows in heavy rains—a perennial problem since the turn of the century.

Testimony Continues In Man's Assaut Case

A 23-year-old Huston St. homemaker, the mother of three children, testified yesterday the defendant attacked her in her apartment about 1:30 a.m. Oct. 24 while her husband, a truck-driver, was away on a trip.

Harris Selected For Trustee Post

LISBON — Robert Harris of Laurie Rd., East Liverpool, is a new member of the Columbiana County Tuberculosis Clinic board of trustees.

Manager of the Social Security office in East Liverpool, Harris was appointed by the county commissioners to fill the unexpired term of James R. Sigler of N. Meadowbrook Circle, East Liverpool.

Sigler, secretary of the board, resigned because he could not attend meetings regularly. His term expires Sept. 1, 1970.

The other trustees are Felix Butch of Lisbon, chairman, and Dr. F. R. Crowgey of Salem. They and Harris held their first meeting together today at the clinic in the Courthouse. Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner, is clinic director.

feel, I will be given the right to vote. If not soon, I will be voting in future elections and I surely wouldn't want the courts to deny me that right and select my representatives. I certainly wouldn't want my vote cast aside through absolutely no fault of my own. This injustice must be settled for the sake of this electon, for the sake of future elections, for the sake of the voice of the people and for the sake of 'simple justice.'

"Let me make it clearly known that I am not giving this speech to support either of the canddaties or as an attempt to secure the election of the parties concerned. Moreover, I am questioning the right of 'simple justice' and am asking for an attempt for fair play on the part of the state and county officials. It is evident that fair play has been disregarded.

"For example, why is a sheriff who received less votes than the other candidate now functioning in that office by the acts of the state Supreme Court and county officials. I could understand this if the ballots were illegal, but they were legal as far as I am concerned, because they were honestly cast. The voice of the people is being questioned and how could the actions of four women give any person, any official, the right to cast out the choice of the people? This certainly does infer questions in my mind. Still, there are other questions which deserve answers.

"Why should Mr. Smoleski be denied his right to protest? Isn't it the privilege of the voter to hear both sides? It is only by hearing both sides that an official can make the right decision, a fair decision. That is how all disputes should be settled, by hearing the conflicting views and prove the right one.

"What about the meeting. The secret meeting. The one held by the county court to examine ballots. Why not discuss this meeting?

"Also, what has happened to our county officials? Since when is their authority 'overridden' by mere words. Do they realize the extent of their authority? Do they know that legal advice also can be misconstrued or incorrect? Can legal councils deny the authority of the county officials — officials elected by the voice of the people. Such as in the case of Mr. Konchar.

"In addition there is the question of technicalities. Will all future elections be decided on incidents which are common in all precincts in all elections? The voice of the people is again being questioned and this should not be."

—:—

COMMISSIONER Edward M. Nogay rose after Miss Porter spoke to protest portions of her speech.

He declared the commissioners have been accused by innuendo of wrongdoing. Raising his voice, he declared that no notification was given of the Jan. 3 meetng because the findings there were to be used as evidence in the case presented to the state Supreme Court.

"Anyone who says a recount took place is guilty of false statements."

"Are you being used as some unwitting tool?" he asked the audience.

"We have vague accusations," Nogay continued. "All I've heard tonight so far is 'disregard the law' ".

"Mr. Patrick was not certified by the commissioners," he said. "The Supreme Court issued a ruling. These are not mere words," he argued.

"I believe what I've done is right," Nogay continued. "I realize some of you were my friends unti Feb. 10, but now you're not."

The mood of the crowd was summed up by Miss Porter, chairman of the voters' committee, when she emphasized, "We don't want this to happen again."

Miss Porter then delivered what she termed an ultimatum to the commissioners and said it is backed by nearly 400 signatures from Precinct 32—a demand that the commissioners and the West Virginia Supreme Court reinstate the votes that were disqualified.

MISS PORTER told commissioners: "The county court owes it to every voter; it is their duty as an elected official to advocate, to restore every vote to Precinct 32; they must see that every citizen's vote is counted. Therefore, we request the county commissioners, the county prosecutor and the attorney general to appear before the Supreme Court before the 30-day period and make their plea to defend the constitutional rights of the citizens of Precinct 32 and of the entire county, that is, their constitutional right to vote, to have their honestly cast votes counted. In short, petition the state Supreme Court to reverse their decision.

"This leaves us with no other alternative but to petition the Supreme Court as the Committee on Voters Rights and citizens of the county with our own legal adviser in an attempt to have the state Supreme Court reverse their decision."

Nogay expressed displeasure that the committee was delivering an ultimatum to commissioners.

"I'll be damned if I'll vote for something I believe wrong," he said.

"No one on the court disagrees one iota that these people don't have a right to vote," he continued.

Then Pietranton rose to ask the court to set a date for Smoleski to contest the latest resuls. Commissioner Joseph Manypenny made the motion to set the time.

Pietranton pointed out that if anyone is to blame for the present circumstances, "it rests with the party chairmen of both parties."

Zagula explained the selection of pollworkers, saying that the party chairmen submit a list, and many times are just glad to obtain enough names to fill the list. The names are turned over to the county clerk, who mails postcards asking the people to serve.

Zagula noted that the pollworkers "are paid a pittance" for a job that last nearly two days.

Shortly before 10, the commissioners voted to adjourn the meeting until Friday when the battle to decide the sheriff's race will begin anew.

Bettis Schedules Mayors' Session On Police Funds

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis has called a countywide mayors' meeting this afternoon at 3 in the commissioners' office at the Courthouse to discuss formation of a Columbiana County organization for administration of federal funds under the "safe streets act" of 1968.

Mayor George E. Willshaw will represent East Liverpool at the session. Bettis said in a letter he is temporary chairman of the group which will form a so-called "council of governments" that will administer the money. He asked all interested mayors to attend.

Bettis said today's session is an outgrowth of a meeting last Friday at Canton that brought together 50 public officials from Stark and Columbiana Counties. At the time, the officials of the two counties decided to form separate "councils of government" to administer the funds.

The funds are administered statewide by the Ohio Urban Affairs Department. Stark and Columbiana Counties comprise District 8 of the organization set up to handle the federal grants.

2 Autos Damaged As Truck Breaks Loose From Tow

WASHINGTONVILLE—A disabled tractor - trailer rig broke loose from a tow truck Wednesday afternoon and drifted into two parked autos, a retaining wall and the steps of a bowling alley.

Washingtonville police said no one was injured in the mishap which occurred at 5 p. m. at the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad crossing.

Tyrone Parkinson, 28, of Pittsburgh, driver of the tow truck, was arrested for driving with an insceure load, and was due for a hearing today before Mayor Frank Davidson.

Officers said the disabled Standard Freight Co. truck broke loose when the tow cable snapped as the rig went over the crossing. It grazed the fender of a car owned by William Taucher of Lyons Ave., East Palestine, then struck a 1965 sedan owned by Earl Black of Negley, demolishing it. The rig came to a halt against the steps, with about $900 damage.

Hays Promises Data On Inspection Of Run

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, told Mayor George E. Willshaw in a letter today that he will advise the city government as soon as he receives data from the U.S. Corps of Engineers on an inspection made Feb. 10 along the East End Run in answer to the city's request for improving the stream bed as a "flood control project."

The inspection, made by Paul Stolz of the Pittsburgh District engineers office, was arranged through the congressman at the request of the mayor. Willshaw then wrote Hays advising that the inspection had been made and the congressman replied that he will supply the mayor with further data when it is available.

Stolz indicated after his Feb. 10 inspection that he would recommend further preliminary studies to pass on the feasibility of the project. There was no indication whether the survey looked toward enclosing the run or deepening the bed to prevent overflows in heavy rains—a perennial problem since the turn of the century.

Sigler, secretary of the board, resigned because he could not attend meetings regularly. His term expires Sept. 1, 1970.

The other trustees are Felix Butch of Lisbon, chairman, and Dr. F. R. Crowgey of Salem. They and Harris held their first meeting together today at the clinic in the Courthouse. Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner, is clinic director.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 9, 1969

AN ORDINANCE VACATING CERTAIN SEGMENTS OF WISCONSIN STREET, JAMES STREET, WILBERT STREET AND EUTAW STREET.

WHEREAS, Council is of the opinion that there is good cause for vacating certain segments of the following streets: Wisconsin Street, James Street, Wilbert Street and Eutaw Street; and

WHEREAS, such vacation will not be detrimental to the general interest, and ought to be made; and

WHEREAS, each and every property owner owning property abutting the streets hereinafter legally described, have filed their petition and consent for the vacation of said streets, hereinafter described, with the City Council, of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That the following hereinafter described streets be and the same are hereby vacated:

A. Wisconsin Street from a line formed by the southward projection of the east line of Lot No. 7782, eastwardly to the westerly line of LaBelle Terrace.

B. James Street from the south line of Standley Way to the north line of Eutaw Avenue North.

C. Wilbert Street from a line formed by the southeasterly projection of the northeasterly line of lot No. 7689, northeastwardly to the south line of Wisconsin Street.

D. Eutaw Avenue North from the southerly corner of lot No. 7739, northeastwardly and east to the westerly line of LaBelle Terrace.

SECTION 2. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emgency measure and shall take effect immediately upon passage and approval. Junior Editors Quiz on PENNSYLVANIA

QUESTION: Why is Pennsylvania called the keystone state?

* * *

ANSWER: William Penn, born in 1644, was an English Quaker who had suffered persecution because of his religion. The English king owed Penn's father a large debt, which young William agreed would be settled if he were given rights to some wilderness land in America. So he acquired Pennsylvania and promoted settlement based on the ideas of justice, brotherly love and religious freedom. Penn's colony flourished and became the cultural center of the American Colonies. It was also the geographical center, lying between New York and New England on one hand, and New Jersey, Delaware and the Southern Colonies on the other. The influence of Pennsylvania tended, in the stormy days of the Revolution, to unite these colonies. When building a stone bridge (upper left), a large specially shaped stone is placed in the center to take the main weight and bind the other stones together. This is called the keystone. Since Pennsylvania acted as a keystone for the young American nation, it became known as THE KEYSTONE STATE.
